Bishop James Cannon Indicted By Federal Grand Jury

INDICTMENT ALSO NAMES SECRETARY

Defiant Pastor Accused of Violating Federal Corrupt Practices Act

BISHOP NOT PRESENT

True Bill Based on Disposition of Funds During Presidential Campaign

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(UP)—Bishop James Cannon, jr., Methodist Episcopal church, South, was indicted by the federal grand jury here today on 10 counts involving alleged violations of the federal corrupt practices act. The same indictment names Ada L. Burroughs, Cannon's political secretary. The charges are for violation of the federal corrupt practices act, growing out of the activities of the anti-Smith Democrats in the 1928 presidential campaign. Penalties to which the bishop and his aide are liable under the indictment total 10 years in prison with the possibility of fines up to $50,000. The indictment was handed up to Justice James Proctor of the District of Columbia supreme court at the opening of court this morning. The indictment is based on the disposition made of funds contributed to the anti-Smith Democrats by E. C. Jameson, New York capitalist. It is charged that Miss Burroughs, as treasurer of the anti-Smith organization, failed fully to account for funds in reports filed with the clerk of the house of representatives.

Follows Probe

The grand jury action follows an investigation concluded less than a week ago at which an array of prominent persons, who had been associated with the political activities of the churchman, were witnesses.

Neither Bishop Cannon, nor Miss Burroughs, was present when the indictments were made public. The bishop was understood to be in

18,000 PERSONS AT AIMEE'S REVIVAL

BOSTON, Oct. 16.—(UP)—Aimee Semple McPherson Hutton thinks that, after all, her Boston revival may produce some funds for the city's employed.

After she promised Mayor James M. Curley last week to share the net proceeds with the jobless it began to appear as though the free will offerings would not even cover the expenses, estimated at $2600 daily.

Last night at Boston Garden, however, the evangelist preached to the biggest audience to date—approximately 18,000—and the amount of the collection, though not announced, was understood to be the largest since the revival opened.

To make doubly sure that some money would be available for the unemployed, Aimee last night distributed envelopes for a "love offering," suggesting that everyone donate a $10 bill.

HOOVER, ADAMS CONTROVERSY NOW CRITICAL

Dispute Over Naval Budget Leads to Conference at White House

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(UP)—President Hoover's long standing displeasure with the navy department and the department's equally dissatisfied attitude toward the chief executive today reached a critical point.

A dispute over the naval budget figures for next year assumed unexpected importance when Secretary of Navy Charles Francis Adams left the White House obviously perturbed.

It is understood on reliable authority that Mr. Hoover informed Adams that arguments in behalf of the navy's position appear in the press too frequently to believe the admirals are not inspiring them. The president's position is said to be that Adams' admirals are seeking to create public sentiment unfavorable to the navy.

MOTHER KENNEDY TO GO INTO VAUDEVILLE

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 16.—(UP)—If Aimee Semple McPherson-Hutton can dramatize religion and touch it up with theatrical embellishments, there should be no reason why Mrs. Minnie (Ma) Kennedy-Hudson should not join the stage to further her own evangelistic work.

So reasoned the elderly mother of the Angelus temple leader as she took the bull by the horns and signed a contract for a 40 week vaudeville tour, which should increase the Kennedy-Hudson family coffers by nearly $4000 a week. Guy Edward (What-a-Man) Hudson also signed on the dotted line with "Ma," who is head of the Everlasting Gospel church, but he was just a bit bewildered today about the whole proceedings.

HANG TWO NEGROES IN LOUISIANA JAIL

COLUMBIA, La., Oct. 16.—(UP)—Two Negroes were hanged in the jail yard here today.

A threatened last minute reprieve from Paul N. Cyr, one of two claimants to the office of Governor Huey P. Long, failed to develop.

The men, Henry Hodge and Jesse Simmons, who killed another Negro, were executed under the direction of Sheriff J. W. King. Both declared their innocence and sang a Negro spiritual before they died.

PACIFIC COAST REGION IS DUE FOR DRY YEAR

Prediction By Scripps Institute at La Jolla is Based on Ocean

LA JOLLA, Calif., Oct. 16.—(UP)—The Pacific coast region is due for a dry winter, the Scripps Institution of Oceanography declared today in a lengthy treatise on the subject. The institution based its prediction on a complex chart of ocean temperatures, obtained over a 15-year period.

High ocean temperatures, it has found, invariably preceded periods of deficient seasonal precipitation, while low temperatures preceded an excess of precipitation. The past summer, it was announced, the north Pacific high temperatures were exceptionally unstable and the inshore seawater temperatures were excessively high.

While admitting that precipitation records reveal cyclical changes having various periods, the report believes cycles do not appear well adapted to furnish advance indications of the precipitation for a particular season.

It finds, however, that the maximum of the Hellmann cycle, of five to six year period, is due about 1932, when heavy rains again will fall. It warns, however, that not much reliance should be placed on the exact time thus indicated.

The report also reveals that the Bruckner cycle, of 22-23 years, is now rising and the next crest will be reached about 1939, coinciding with the anticipated peak in sunspot values, also believed to have a bearing on rainfall.

The 1931-1932 season is the low point of the long, or secular cycle, of 70-90 years, the report indicates.

Six coastal stations between Santa Barbara and San Diego have been used in recording ocean temperatures, and it has been found that the period between August 1 and October 15 are most consistently related to the following seasonal precipitation.

Over a 15-year period, the average ocean temperature at La Jolla has been 67.4 degrees, the report shows, with a south coast precipitation of 13.2 inches on an average. The past summer, the temperature has been 70.5 degrees, indicating a precipitation of 9.9 inches.

At Santa Barbara, where an average of 17.50 inches of rain has fallen over a 15-year period, a precipitation of 13.4 inches is indicated.

North coastal ocean temperatures indicate a deficiency of 21.8 inches in precipitation this year. A 12-year average of temperature was 55.8 degrees, and 48.7 inches of rainfall. This past summer, the ocean water rose to 58.8 degrees at Pacific Grove, indicating a rainfall of 25.9 inches.

ALLEGED MURDERER IS CAUGHT BY 'KID'

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 16.—(UP)—Everett Frank Lindsay, "big shot" criminal arrested here early today for the asserted murder of his wife and statutory offenses against minor girls, today expressed his disgust at being apprehended by "a punk kid."

Lindsay, who walked the streets of Los Angeles for two years while officers sought him, castigated the local police efforts to catch him and said: "I've known that some day they would get me, but I certainly didn't think a punk kid would turn the trick."

While working in restaurants here he fed ate with and talked with policemen, he said. He is also being held in connection with a bigamy warrant said to have been issued for him in Stockton in February 1921.

'Alfalfa Bill' Has Way To End Depression

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 16.—(UP)—William H. "Alfalfa Bill" Murray, governor of Oklahoma, has a solution for the unemployment problem. "Let all unemployed men go to Louisiana and take the oath as governors; that'll give 'em a real job," he said after reading of the three-way fight being made for the office.

ARGUMENTS IN CAPONE TRIAL STARTED TODAY

Government Asks Judge to Send Gangster Chief to Penitentiary

FEDERAL BUILDING, CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—(UP)—A government attorney, pleading today with a jury to send the gangster chief, Al Capone, to penitentiary as an income tax evader, branded him a wealthy man who had dodged his obligations to the nation.

The government attorney called him rich, yet added, sarcastically, that he had "not a cent of taxable income." Supporting this line of attack, he likened him to the Ancient Mariner with "water, water everywhere nor any drop to drink."

"It has been money, money everywhere and not a cent of taxable income," Assistant United States District Attorney Clawson said, as he analyzed the course of Capone with respect to income taxation.

Clawson was followed by Defense Attorney Albert Fink, whose final argument to the jury was expected to require most of the day.

Capone, in a dark green suit, seemed relaxed after the strain of listening to testimony about his

THOMAS EDISON HAS BUT HOURS TO LIVE

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Oct. 16.—(UP)—Thomas A. Edison's hours are numbered.

He was in a coma today, pre-saging death, and his physician, Dr. Hubert S. Howe left New York shortly after 7 a. m. to be at his bedside.

At that hour, Howe was uncertain whether he would have to remain constantly beside the dying inventor. There was the certainty only that Edison had entered during the night into the coma from which there is no rousing.

The aged inventor who has fought off death for weeks, and who for several days has taken no nourishment, dropped into a coma last night. For two or three days he has been in a stupor.

GOVERNOR LONG IS STILL CARRYING ON

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 16.—(UP)—Louisiana showed less interest today in "governors" and "lieutenant governors" and more in affairs of the state scheduled execution of two negroes, and a typical Huey Long defense of corpse dunking in politics.

Governor Long ignored two new members of his "official family" who had taken the oath of lieutenant governor on the theory that "every governor needs a lieutenant governor."

And he ignored a verbal attack directed his way by one of two pretenders to the gubernatorial throne in his state in which Dr. Paul Cyr declared Long "had a red nose, a white stomach and a yellow back."

Government Victorious In Test Case

Kansas City Federal Judge Fines Company $100 on Each of 5 Counts

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 16.—(UP)—Sale of grape concentrates which turn into wine when the purchaser follows simple directions was held in violation of the prohibition laws in a decision handed down today by Judge Merrill E. Otis in district federal court.

The decision was in the case of Ukiah Grape Products company, Inc., of New York, against which a test case was brought charging it with violation of the liquor laws.

In a 51 page decision, Judge Otis found the Ukiah company guilty in five counts of sale and in two counts of possession of grape concentrate "intended for use in the manufacture of intoxicating liquor."

A. E. Brunette, manager of the Kansas City office of the company, was found guilty in five counts of sale and in two counts of possession.

The Ukiah company was fined $100 on each of the seven counts of which it was held guilty. Brunette was fined $50 on each of the five counts.

Judge Otis set forth that he was mitigating the sentence in view of the charges being levied as a test case and of the company's cooperation in meeting the charges.

Leslie J. Lyons, attorney for the Ukiah company, announced after the decision that he would appeal the case to the circuit court of appeals. This was no more than the anticipated formality, since it had been understood since the charges were filed that as a test case it would be carried to the higher courts.

Just how decisively the decision, if upheld, would affect the grape concentrates industry in general was not definitely indicated.

Judge Otis pointed out that evidence in the case showed that the Ukiah Products were not intended "specifically" for the manufacture of intoxicating liquor, but that they had been held in violation of the national prohibition act.

Evidence had been presented before Judge Otis for more than a week.

Both sides agreed to the facts in the case, and agreed to dispense with a jury and leave the decision entirely to the judge. Reservation was made that appeal would be taken to higher courts regardless of the decision.

MAYOR PORTER AND MAYOR KEY BREAK

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 16.—(UP)—The parting of social ways has been reached by Mayor John C. Porter of Los Angeles and Mayor James L. Key of Atlanta, Ga.

No longer will Mayor Porter speak, or write, to Mayor Key.

Just what passed between the two gentlemen is as much a mystery as what passed between the governor of North Carolina and the governor of South Carolina, but administration friends reported that it sounded suspiciously like: "Here's how!"

Relations already strained by a "here's how" speech delivered in France by Mayor Key, were broken today when Mayor Porter declined to write a letter of felicitations to his fellow-executive in Georgia.

BIG DIRIGIBLE ON ANOTHER LONG TRIP

AKRON, O., Oct. 16.—(UP)—The U. S. S. Akron nosed away from the airlock at 6:50 a. m. today on a projected 48 hour flight of endurance, probably her last test flight before cruising to Lakehurst naval station, her permanent home.

The sky cruiser circled over the airport and slid through the early morning skies to the southwest. Her course was not announced.

SETH BULLOCK, MAIL CARRIER HERE, ARRESTED

Confesses to Postal Inspectors He Stole $200 From Letters

CONFESSING THAT HE had secured approximately $200 by opening letters intended for delivery to Santa Ana business firms, courthouses, offices, and prisoners at the Orange county jail, Seth T. Bullock, for the past 10 years postal carrier on the city postoffice staff and prominently known in lodge and civic affairs, was taken into custody today by Postal Inspectors Lowe and Kline, of Los Angeles.

He was taken to Los Angeles where he will be arraigned before the United States Court commissioner and his bond fixed.

Money losses had been noticed on his route, causing suspicion to be felt over the possibility of his implication. It was learned, Three envelopes containing marked money were placed in the mail this morning, two of which were addressed to supposed prisoners at the county jail. When Bullock failed to deliver the letters, the postal inspectors arrested him outside the county jail. He was searched and the marked money is alleged to have been found on him.

Bullock made a confession to the inspectors and admitted that he had obtained about $200 over a period of a year, it is said. Most of the funds obtained were in small amounts, the post office officials revealed. Small sums of money were given to the prisoners at the jail were chiefly involved, according to Bullock's alleged confession. However, other thefts of money mailed to business firms on Bullock's delivery route are also said to have been made.

The law does not fix the penalty for the offense to which Bullock allegedly confessed. The sentence, in case his guilt is established, will rest with the federal court commissioner, officials said.

TRAIN SERVICE IS ORDERED REDUCED

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 16.—(UP)—Suburban train service between San Bernardino and Los Angeles was ordered reduced today by the state railroad commission, as a result of the Pacific Electric's application for a cut.

Additional service during the morning and evening "peak" hours of travel and reduction of service between these periods is provided for in the commission's order.

Although the commuters served by the line objected to the manner in which the company's application was made, they are ready to accept the revised schedule, James M. Roberts, their representative at the commission's hearing, declared.

A loss of 365,279 passengers and $192,053 in revenue between January and August, 1929, and the same months of 1931, caused the company's action, O. A. Smith, traffic manager said.

PREMIER OF FRANCE SAILS FOR AMERICA

LE HAVRE, France, Oct. 16.—(UP)—Premier Pierre Laval and his party sailed for New York at 12:40 p. m. today aboard the liner P. de France.

The premier was accompanied by Le Havre by United States Ambassador Walter E. Edge. Both addressed a meeting at the town hall.

Le Havre turned out en masse to bid God speed to the premier on his important mission of international understanding. Laval is the first French premier to visit America while in active office.

CALLES IS MEMBER OF RUBIO CABINET

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 16.—(UP)—The only member of President Pascual Ortiz Rubio's cabinet in office today was General Plutarco Elias Calles, the President having accepted the resignations of all civilian members.

Calles will be Minister of War in the new cabinet, which will not be announced for several days.

LINDBERGH'S IN ADVENTURE ON PACIFIC TODAY

Liner President Jefferson Leaves Course to Go to Disabled Ship

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 16.—(UP)—Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, America's foremost adventurers of the sea today when the liner President Jefferson, bringing them home from the Orient, turned from her course to aid a sinking Japanese steamer.

In a dramatic race with death, the Dollar liner steamed full speed to the Japanese merchantman Yunan Maru in hopes of reaching her before she foundered.

Cracking out of the ether from south of the Aleutian Islands early today, a distress call from the Yunan Maru brought word that a driving windstorm had left it in a desperate plight.

Excitement ran high on the Lindbergh ship as the radio operator slowly pieced together the message that the Yunan had lost her heavy deck load, and with decks awash

BRUENING VICTOR IN STRENGTH TEST

BERLIN, Oct. 16.—(UP)—Chancellor Heinrich Bruening's reorganized government emerged victorious in its first test of strength in the reichstag today.

A motion of misconfidence against the cabinet was defeated, 294 to 279, with three abstentions, a majority of 24 for the government.

The vote, on which hung the fate of the government and the ability of the fascist-nationalist opposition to take control and force a general election, was awaited with tense interest.

After the vote, the socialists and liberals cheered while the disappointed followers of Adolph Hitler booed. The balloting was unprecedentedly heavy, 667 out of 677 deputies having voted.

Search For Body Of Drowned Man

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Cal., Oct. 16.—(UP)—Search was being made today for the body of August Wolf, 56, who was drowned yesterday when an outboard motorboat overturned in treacherous whirlpools about Morro Rock, near here.

Wolf and James Stocking, both residents of Morro, were pleasure fishing near the rock when their boat was caught in an eddy and overturned.

Stocking managed to cling to the boat and was washed ashore, but Wolf was drowned when he let go of the boat in attempting to place a life preserver about his shoulders.

ORDERS PROTEST

VATICAN CITY, Oct. 16.—(UP)—Pope Pius today ordered Monsignor Tedeschi, Papal Nuncio to Madrid, to protest energetically against "multiplied offenses inflicted against the sacred rights of the church" in the recent action of the Spanish Cortes.

GILBERT MAY ATTEND ALL CONFERENCES

Japanese Delegate Claims United States is Not Entitled to Be Present

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(UP)—Prentiss Gilbert, American consul at Geneva, will represent the United States at the League council session on Manchuria despite Japan's express opposition, the United Press was told today in a usually well informed quarter.

Geneva, Oct. 16.—(UP)—Aristide Briand ruled as president of the League of Nations council today to invite United States participation in the council's Manchurian discussion, despite Japan's objections, and dispatched an invitation to Washington.

League circles hoped that Prentiss Gilbert, United States consul general at Geneva, would be able to take part in the council session beginning at 6 p. m. today.

Briand's invitation to the United States expressed the opinion that the question involved both the Kellogg pact and the league of nations covenant.

"The opinion is well founded," since article two of the pact provides for only peaceful settlement of disputes," he said.

"The United States is one of the proponents and also one of the foremost signatories of the pact. Therefore the United States may be regarded as especially interested in ensuring pacific settlement of disputes."

"The moment has arrived when the goodwill and the intentions of all councilors must be demonstrated. We are determined to preserve peace, which is the basis of the league."

"We welcome the words of Gerhard von Mutius (German delegate) 'If such an institution had existed before the war, where parties were able to come to a table

TAXI DRIVER WEDS OKLAHOMA HEIRESS

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Oct. 16.—(UP)—The romance of a taxi driver and an 18-year-old heiress to Oklahoma oil land riches, was revealed today in the marriage of Florence A. McAllister and Edward Challette.

Although the couple were married several weeks ago, culminating rapid-fire romance of less than a fortnight, the affair did not become known until they moved into a $90,000 home here.

Mrs. Challette is the daughter of the late Mrs. Florence McAllister, who died last year leaving an estate of $3,000,000 to three children, and valuable Osage Indian oil lands, inherited from her father. Her income is reported as $240,000 a year.

Challette formerly was chauffeur for Warner Barker, film star, but at the time he met the heiress, was driving a meter car.

FIRST STEP TAKEN IN SHIP'S MERGER

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 16.—(UP)—The United States Lines company, a Nevada corporation, has been organized as the first step by a coalition of marine interests in acquiring "the vast fleet of shipping board vessels, it was learned today."

The corporation, which has 3,500,000 shares of no par value stock, filed articles in Nevada three weeks ago, shortly before a conference was called in San Francisco by rival bidders for the United States line.

The Dollar-Dawson-Chapman group, representing the Pacific coast interests in the conference here, will use the company in negotiating with the shipping board next Monday for control of the lines.

SCHOOLS, ROADS COST FOR PAST 15 YEARS TOLD

Results of a survey showing the cost of Orange county schools and roads for the past 15 years were made public today by County Assessor James Sleeper. The report showed that in 1916 roads cost $487,068, while in 1931 the cost was $1,306,357. The school outlay in 1916 was $683,990 and in 1931 it was $5,365,794.

The figures include payments on bonded indebtedness, new construction and all expenses connected with the county schools and roads.

Total costs for roads since 1916 is shown as $11,558,324 in the survey and the total expense for schools in the same period is shown as $44,424,132.

Another table compiled by Sleeper's office shows where the 1931 tax dollar was spent. Percentages as follows show the proportion of the tax dollar used for various purposes: schools, .488; roads, .201; county general fund, .088; hospital, .055; salary, .049; interest and sinking, .095, and library and county park, .012. The road percentage does not take into account special district roads.

CHILD DIES

Dorothy Louise Tucker, five-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Tucker, 810 West Third street, died at her home today. Arrangements for the funeral service from the Smith and Tutill parlors had not been completed today.

Her father is proprietor of the Enterprise Printing company, Santa Ana.

Attorneys Confer on Smudge Control

District Attorney Sam L. Collins was at Riverside today conferring with district attorneys of Riverside, San Bernardino and Los Angeles counties on proposed legislation to prevent the smoke nuisance from smudge pots in citrus groves.

Although smog originating in Orange county does not cause much trouble, there often is a dense cloud which reaches this section from the north in cold weather. The conference today was to attempt to find a way to draft an efficient ordinance which could be enforced.

H. B. Liquor Case Jury Dismissed

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 16.—James Ballard, charged on three counts with selling liquor, had his trial before a jury in Justice Chris Pann's court yesterday. When the case was given to the jury the first vote showed 10 for acquittal and two for conviction. The final ballot was 11 for acquittal and one for conviction. The jury reported its inability to reach a verdict about 6 o'clock and the justice dismissed the jury.

The date for a new trial was not set. Ballard, owner of a pool hall here, is at liberty on bond.

Will Make Awards To Coast Scouts

Star and life badges will be awarded Boy Scouts who have passed the tests required at the big rally for the Orange county coastline troops from Costa Mesa to San Clemente to be held tonight at the Fairy Woods amphitheater in Laguna Beach. Col. M. B. Wellington, Santa Ana, president of the county executive council, and Judge Donald Dodge, of Costa Mesa, will make the presentation of badges.

able to the rigid economies Mr. Hoover has in mind.

Mr. Hoover and Adams have not seen things eye to eye for some time. Reports that Adams would resign have been in circulation off and on since last winter. Adams has steadfastly denied the reports and Mr. Hoover has publicly indicated his confidence in Adams. The latest denial from Adams came as recently as last week.

To the admirals Mr. Hoover's orders for a slash of $61,000,000 in the 1932 navy budget meant nothing less than impairment of the efficiency of what they consider to be the first arm of defense. To Mr. Hoover, it looked as if the navy in resisting his efforts to make the cut has inspired stories that the president might ruin the navy.

Mr. Hoover's feelings in the matter are very strong. It has been officially indicated he might go to the country in an appeal for the right of the president to fix expenses of his own administration. The presidential attitude became known after Adams submitted a budget calling for $401,000,000 next year. Mr. Hoover ordered a cut to $340,000,000. Expenses this year are $360,000,000.

Adams has now returned the navy's counter proposition. It does not provide a $61,000,000 cut, according to authoritative sources, but offers an intermediary figure. The attitude of the navy is that this intermediary figure is the rock bottom expense possible for the maintenance of an efficient sea force.

TO DISCUSS FOREST PROBLEMS TONIGHT

Problems of forest management will be outlined by Woodbridge Metcalf, extension forester for the University of California, at the general membership meeting of the Orange County Forest Protective association to be held tonight at 8:30 o'clock in Ketter's cafe.

A report is to be submitted by John Osterman, of Santa Ana, chairman of a special committee to investigate the lowering of fire rates in rural districts. Other business includes the proposed revision of the constitution to extend membership over the county.

and discuss their cases, what miseries would have been saved." "With such an institution existing now, we must succeed. Tomorrow and the days following we must show real action."

Yoshizawa told the council, "My government considers that the proposition to invite a non member to participate in the council in a consultative capacity raises constitutional questions of extreme importance to the league which cannot be settled for reasons of opportunity, however high, without previous serious consideration." The council adjourned until 6 p. m.

FAVORS MOVE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(UP)—Katsunji Debuchi, Japanese ambassador to Washington, has recommended to his government that it withdraw its opposition to the proposal of the United States to have its representative sit with the league of nations council while considering the Japanese-Chinese Manchurian dispute.

He also has made a detailed explanation of the position of the United States and urged moderation on the part of his government in dealing with this country's attitude on the present dispute of Japan with China.

There was a feeling today that Debuchi's action considerably cleared the situation and increased the chances of United States accepting the league's invitation for an American representative to sit with the league council.

CONSIDERS COURSES

TOKIO, Oct. 16.—(UP)—The government considered two courses of action today in resisting the League of Nations' decision to invite an American observer to the council sessions on the Manchurian crisis.

Premier Reijiro Wakatsuki in a statement to native language newspapers said that Japan doubts the legality of the invitation, although appreciating America's efforts to preserve peace. He expressed the hope that the council would give this point the most careful consideration.

The newspapers also reported that Japan may demand an adjournment of the council pending a study of the legality question. Otherwise the government may instruct Kenjiro Yoshizawa, Japanese representative on the council, to remain away from the sessions attended by an American observer.

Control Of Fire Hazards Told On Inspection Tour

Methods of controlling fire hazards in the national forests, by means of fire breaks and motor ways, were explained to a large group of farm center representatives of the county, members of the forest protective association, and state representatives who were in the party that went to Santiago peak yesterday.

The work done in the protection of the water sheds was outlined to the 36 who made the all day trip, arranged by W. M. Cory, assistant farm adviser.

Talks were given to the group by H. R. Valentine, federal forest ranger in charge of this district of the Cleveland National forests; W. H. Coupe, deputy state forest ranger for the Southern district; Mayhew Davis, assistant federal forest ranger in charge of the Cleveland National forests; Woodbridge Metcalf, extension forester for the University of California; Joe Scherman, state forester for Orange county, and Harold E. Wahlberg, county farm adviser.

was shipping volumes of water into its holds.

A few minutes later the liner flashed the Dollar radio station here that it was proceeding to the Yunnan and would reach her in a few hours. The Dollar and Mackay radio stations here already had received the Yunnan's SOS and were anxiously patrolling the north Pacific in search of a rescue ship.

The President Jefferson kept calling the Yunnan Maru. The United Press learned later that the Yunnan answered for a time, its signals growing weaker. Finally they ceased altogether, and officers of the Jefferson feared that they may be too late.

Most of the Jefferson's passengers, the Lindberghs among them, were asleep when the call was received. The vibration of the speeding liner soon aroused them, and soon they were lining the rails watching for a glimpse of the stricken steamer, shipping agencies here were told.

The now famous Lawrence Mattingly, "confession letter" was read to the jury by Clawson Mattingly, Capone's Washington attorney, admitted in the letter that the gang leader had a four-year income of $268,000.

The contempt of court case against Phil D'Andrea, Capone bodyguard who was arrested after carrying a concealed revolver into the court room, was again postponed today.

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson sent D'Andrea back to jail and said his case would be heard Monday morning.

Fink's first remark to the jury was a question.

"Will you find the defendant guilty just to please and appease public clamor?" he asked.

A second question was: "Is there any evidence that approaches the dignity of hearsay indicating guilt?"

J. M. Griggs Called By Death Today

J. M. Griggs, resident of Santa Ana for many years died this morning at a local hospital. He was survived by his widow, Mrs. Martha Elizabeth Griggs, two sons, George, of Pomona, and Hillard, of Winslow, Ariz. and one sister, Mrs. J. L. Sudduth of Los Angeles.

Funeral plans have been delayed but will be announced later by the Smith and Tutill funeral home.

CASE IS APPEALED

Fred W. Long, Inc., has appealed to the superior court from a judgment of the Anaheim justice court in favor of T. B. Fassons, defendant, in a $335.85 suit over damage to an automobile of the California Spray Chemical company. The claim came into the hands of the plaintiff by assignment. The complaint said a car owned by the spray company was damaged in a collision with the defendant's car on the state highway one quarter of a mile north of Placentia avenue. The defendant's answer claimed contributory negligence on the part of the driver of the spray company car.

FARRARS TO OPEN SERVICES SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Elden R. Farrar, known as the singing evangelists, will open services in the Fullerton Baptist church Sunday, followed by services in the Fullerton First Methodist church the following week.

The Rev. R. D. Snudden, pastor of the Methodist church, and the Rev. H. E. Hawes, pastor of the Baptist church, will speak at the services.

Farrar is organizing a choir and an orchestra. Mrs. Farrar will hold interdenominational meetings for children, as follows: Tuesday and Thursday, 3:30 p. m.; Saturday, 10 a. m. with a program by the children Saturday night.

The first service Sunday night will open at 7:30 o'clock, with meetings each night.

BISHOP CANNON IS INDICTED BY GOVERNMENT

Atlanta, Ga., and Miss Burroughs in Richmond, Va.

Jameson contributed approximately $65,000 to Cannon's anti-Smith campaign. Testimony before the senate campaign fund investigating committee subsequently developed that there was recorded with the clerk of the house a report of only $17,000 of this sum. The federal corrupt practices act requires complete financial accountings of political activities falling within the jurisdiction of congress.

A transcript of the senate committee testimony was given United States District Attorney Leo R. J. Jameson. This information was submitted to the grand jury. Among the witnesses were bankers and politicians, including former Sen. Joseph Frelinghuysen of New Jersey. The senate committee hearing developed testimony that Frelinghuysen, a Republican, had contributed $20,000 to Cannon. Frelinghuysen was quoted in the press as having acknowledged this contribution and as having said it was made at the suggestion of C. Bascom Slemm, Republican national committee chairman for Virginia.

Secretary Named

Miss Burroughs twice refused to testify before the senate committee, in each instance denying its authority to act. She is named in each of the 10 counts as principal because she was treasurer of the anti-Smith organization and signed such reports as were made to the clerk of the house. Cannon is named with Miss Burroughs and is charged in the indictment with "unlawfully and feloniously" aiding and abetting her.

The first count of the indictment says: "Ada L. Burroughs was the treasurer of certain political committee which accepted contributions for the purpose of influencing and attempting to influence the election of presidential and vice presidential electors in two states; that at divers times contributions of money were made by one E. C. Jameson of New York City, N. Y., for the said political committee."

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

How obvious it is, and yet how blind men are to the fact, that power over the forces of nature is based upon understanding them! What the scientist and the inventor does is to use an understanding which he has acquired and which he lacks.

Power over the circumstances of your life is to be attained not by bitter recrimination nor by supine submission, but by a growing understanding, which can come only through your communion with God.

The sorrow you bear you can not escape, but you can learn to have it mold you into a man of power and of supreme helpfulness to others. Increasing confidence in God's love will enlarge your understanding of what He has for you to do and your certainty of eternity with your best beloved will sweeten and deepen your life.

Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret Lohr, 65, who passed away at her home, 421 South Grand avenue, Orange, will be held from the C. W. Coffey parlors in Orange Saturday at 2:30 o'clock with the Rev. A. C. Bode officiating. The body will be sent to Logan, Kans.

ATERMAN—At his residence, 514 South Flower street, October 16, 1931, Waldo D. Waterman, aged 75 years. Mr. Waterman has been a resident of Santa Ana for the past 10 years. 200 FAMILIES DUE TO LEAVE ON THURSDAY

Orange county's Mexican population already has been reduced from 6000 to about 4000 and in the near future an additional group of from 700 to 1000 more Mexican nationals will depart for their native country in an attempt to improve their fortunes. It was learned today from Lucas Lucio, representative of the Mexican consul at Los Angeles, who is handling arrangements for those planning to return to their former homes.

About 200 Orange county families, including approximately 50 from Santa Ana, will leave by train from Los Angeles at 10 a. m. on October 22. These, with others who plan to make the trip by automobile, will number from 700 to 1000.

The October 22 train will be the third this month which has taken Mexican citizens from Southern California to their native land. One left yesterday carrying about 700 persons and another left on October 8, carrying 1500. There were about 500 unable to find room on the train, who waited until the next departure.

Most of the emigrants will pay for their transportation but those unable to do so are making arrangements for the trip through the Mexican consulate at Los Angeles, Lucio said.

mill, of Hollywood, Calif., and Mrs. J. B. Sumter, Floyd and Raymond Waterman, of Santa Ana. Services are to be held from the Winbiger Funeral home, 609 North Main street, Monday, October 19, at 10 a. m. Rev. C. D. Hicks, pastor of the Christian and Missionary Alliance officiating. Interment in Fairhaven cemetery.

TUCKER—Oct. 16, 1931, Dorothy Louise Tucker, aged 5 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Tucker, of 901 West Third street. Notice of funeral will be given later by Smith and Tuttle.

GRIGGS—In Santa Ana, October 16, 1931, J. M. Griggs, aged 76 years. Husband of Mrs. Martha Elizabeth Griggs, of Santa Ana; father of George Griggs, of Pomona; Hillard Griggs, of Winslow, Arizona, and brother of Mrs. J. L. Sudduth, of Los Angeles. Notice of funeral will be given later by Smith and Tuttle.

REID—At her home, 815 West Blarney street, October 15, 1931, Charlotte Reid, aged 23 years. She is survived by her brother, Roswell Reid, of Santa Ana, and one aunt, Mrs. P. H. Stahr, of Portland, Oregon. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow at the Harrell and Brown Funeral home, 116 West Seventeenth street, Rev. W. S. Buchanan officiating.

BEAN—At Garden Grove, October 15, 1931, Mrs. Emma W. Bean, aged 72 years. Mrs. Bean had been a resident of Garden Grove 15 years and is survived by her husband, W. A. Bean, and a daughter, Mrs. J. B. Ridgeway, of Oakland. Funeral services will be held Saturday, October 17 at 2 p. m. from Smith and Tuttle's chapel. Interment Fairhaven cemetery. Rev. Floyd J. Seaman officiating.

P-T. A. Loan Fund Benefit Play To Be Given Tonight

Everything is in readiness for the presentation of the comedy "Cold Molasses" at the Santa Ana high school auditorium which is being given by the Travers Theatrical Productions under the auspices of the Parent Teachers association.

"Cold Molasses" is a hilarious 3-act comedy adapted from one of New York's greatest comedy hits. It depicts the trials and tribulations of a spinster on her New England farm. The situations that arise are extremely funny and laugh provoking.

This performance in Santa Ana is being sponsored by the Parent Teachers' association, the proceeds being devoted to the Student Loan fund.

THIEVES STEAL CASH, CURRENCY IN SAFE HAUL

Santa Ana police today were investigating the theft of $261.33 in currency and checks taken from the safe of the Firestone Service office at First and Main streets Wednesday night and reported to police late yesterday.

The safe was not burglarized and was not damaged in any way, leading officers to believe that said, that some person acquainted with the combination took the money.

The money was placed in the safe Wednesday night by the cashier, Fred Butterfield. Yesterday morning it was missed. In their investigation officers sought all persons who had keys to the outer door of the office and found several. Some who had keys did not know the combination of the safe, they reported.

A total of $107.35 in cash was taken in one money sack and checks aggregating $153.98 were taken in another sack, according to a police report.

Local Briefs

The Rev. William E. Wildman, district superintendent for Riverside city and pastor of the Four Square Gospel church there, will speak and sing at the local Four Square church services at 7:30 p. m. today. He will speak on the subject, "Business Men Attention." The choir and band will provide music.

Dr. Zoe Bulpitt returned to Santa Ana today from Rochester, Minn., where she went with Dr. John M. Bulpitt two weeks ago to be with him during an operation at the Mayo clinic for a tumor. She reported that Dr. John Bulpitt is improving rapidly and is expected to be back in Santa Ana within 10 days or two weeks. Dr. Zoe Bulpitt will return to her office here on Monday.

Special services will be held at the Pentecostal mission, 1201 West Second street, tonight and Sunday night. A speaker from San Diego will be present to assist the pastor, the Rev. A. D. Schwitzer. The services will start at 7:30 p. m.

MAKE SURVEY ON JOB RELIEF: PLACE 10 MEN

A complete survey of the unemployed situation is being made in the city of Orange following a meeting of a committee headed by the Rev. Franklin H. Minck at the chamber of commerce office there this morning. The appointment of the committee was made at a session sponsored by the Orange Community Welfare board, yesterday and included the Rev. Mr. Minck, V. D. Johnson and O. M. Roddeck. It is expected that the survey will be completed the middle of next week.

Information is to be gained in three ways, by letters to be sent to all organizations of the city of Orange, through teachers in the public schools who are to ask all of the pupils if their parents are working, and by registrations at the chamber of commerce office.

Efforts to place persons desiring work in positions will be based first on their need, on their length of residence in the community and on their ability. Those unable to work are to be given aid, according to present plans.

N. T. Edwards has been appointed as the head of a financial committee to secure funds to create work. He is to appoint his own committee, who will get in touch with persons willing to create jobs and those who will contribute funds for the necessities of life for those in need.

Ten men have been secured to work three days a week for a period of five months, on the Santa Ana Canyon road and these men will go to work early in the week. It was announced at the meeting. The selection of the men followed a letter to Mayor W. E. Clement from Governor James Rolph, stating that this number could be selected from Orange.

MOHR, PRENTICE DAMAGE CASE NEARS CLOSE

Following denial of motions for an instructed verdict and for nonsuit on two causes of action, attorneys in the $43,000 damage suit brought by Mr. and Mrs. William G. Mohr, of Ontario, against J. E. Prentice and Josiah Crawford, of Santa Ana, launched into final argument today before a jury in Superior Judge G. K. Seave's court.

During the argument discussion centered on the question of whether notice was required before Mr. and Mrs. Mohr were compelled to vacate property on East First street, formerly belonging to E. D. Burge, and on the question of whether or not more force than necessary was used in ejecting them.

The plaintiffs have testified that they received no notice to vacate, while Prentice said he put a written notice in the front door and saw Mohr take it out and put it in his pocket.

Vacant Lots To Provide Food For Needy

Vacant lots in Santa Ana will provide garden supplies for needy Santa Ana people if the plan under consideration by a special committee of the city unemployment relief committee proves feasible. An appeal was made today by Harold Wahlberg, committee chairman, to owners of vacant lots to turn over their property for this purpose.

Efforts are to be made to secure reduction in water rates and also free seeds for planting, it was learned.

The owners of vacant lots and also those desiring to cultivate gardens to supply their families are asked to communicate with Wahlberg. The members of the committee serving with him are Lyle Mitchell and H. G. Nelson.

ARRANGE FUNERAL OF MRS. W. A. BEAN

Funeral services for Mrs. Emma W. Bean, 73, a resident of the Garden Grove district for the past 15 years, will be held from the Smith and Tuttle parlors Saturday at 2 p. m., with interment in Fairhaven cemetery. The Rev. Floyd J. Seaman will officiate.

Mrs. Bean passed away Thursday. She is survived by her husband, W. A. Bean, and a daughter, Mrs. J. B. Ridgeway, of Oakland.

WOMAN INJURED WHEN PITCHED FROM MACHINE

Mrs. Helen Gaulb, 26, of 1355 Lodi Place, Hollywood, is in the Orange county hospital suffering from cuts and bruises, a black eye and a badly wrenched shoulder, while deputy sheriffs today were seeking information relative to a story that the woman was thrown out of a car, near Los Alamitos last night.

Reports received from the Long Beach police by the sheriff's office was to the effect that the woman was seen to have been thrown from the car. When officers arrived to take her to the hospital she couldn't remember the name of the man with whom she was riding, she told them.

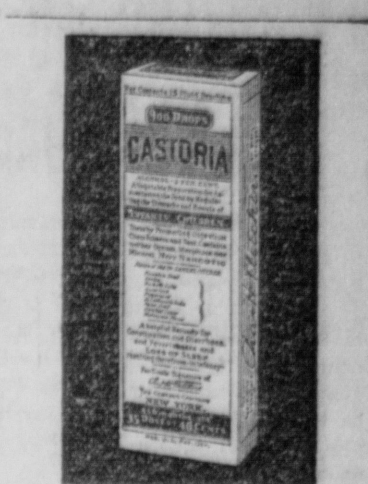

She reported she had been visiting friends in Long Beach for the past several days, having left her mother's place in Hollywood on October 9.

Although not badly hurt, officers reported that her injuries probably would keep her in the hospital for several days.

Deputy Sheriffs Riggles and Nichies answered the call and are conducting the investigation.

FILES FORECLOSURE SUIT

Louise Luebke has brought suit against Edward Flader and others, seeking to foreclose a mortgage on property in Rancho Los Colotes securing a $2500 promissory note.

CAMPAIGNERS WORKING TO REACH GOAL

Active efforts are being continued to clean up by Monday the $11,000 deficit that remains on the $46,050 goal in the Community Chest drive in Santa Ana, according to announcement from campaign headquarters. A report by workers will be made at a luncheon meeting in the American Legion hall Monday noon.

Team members were today staging an intensive solicitation to efface the deficit and carry the campaign over the top.

Support for the chest drive has been received from all sides, it is revealed. School children have contributed their bit in writing essays on "Why the People of Santa Ana Should Support the Community Chest" for a contest in the city schools.

One of the winning essays, written by Roy Bogardus, of the Julia Lathrop Junior High school, points out the aid that community agencies will be able to furnish in times of distress. The essay follows:

Gives Reasons

"In the time of depression which we are now facing, there are many families that have been broken, many looking for employment, many in need of shelter and clothing, and even some dying from cold and lack of food.

"There are several organizations through which food is distributed, clothing, toys and shelter given, and transportation in some instances offered to those who must return to their old homes.

"The great body that furnishes finances for this civic benefit is the Community Chest.

"Annually the Community Chest gives support to many organizations through which the general public finds employment, transportation to their old homes, children's toys, shelter and clothing.

"If the citizens of Santa Ana do not contribute to the Community Chest will not the hard times be getting worse?

"It is the citizens' job to give to this worthy institution and help relieve the hard times in Orange county."

FORMER GOVERNOR'S NEPHEW IS CALLED

Waldo D. Waterman, 75, a nephew of Robert Waterman who was governor of the state of California in 1884, died today at his home, 514 South Flower street. He has been a resident of Santa Ana for the past 10 years.

Funeral services will be conducted from the Winbiger funeral home Monday at 10 a. m. The Rev. C. D. Hicks, pastor of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, will officiate. Interment will be made at the Fairhaven cemetery.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Emma Waterman, seven sons and two daughters: Arthur L. Waterman and Harry Dean Waterman, Pearl City, Illinois; Robert Waldo Waterman, Guinda, California; James Vernon Waterman, San Francisco; Frances Waterman and Mrs. Hamill, Hollywood, California; and Mrs. J. B. Sumter, Floyd Waterman and Raymond Waterman, all of Santa Ana.

EXPERT

Robert K. Murray, below, is a specialist in social recreation who will conduct a course for those interested in such work, to be given in the high school gymnasium here starting next Monday.

Robert K. Murray, expert in social recreation leadership for the National Recreation association, not only will instruct but also will entertain and enliven his classes in the recreation institute which will start in the high school gymnasium here next Monday. It was promised today by those in charge of the project. Classes will meet both afternoon and evening.

The work to be given includes instruction for leaders in social games and stunts for groups of all sorts. The course will be open to all interested in such work and will be sponsored by the city schools, the playground commission, the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A.

MEMBER DRIVE OPENED TODAY BY S. A. LODGE

The Loyal Order of Moose, No. 1025, of Santa Ana and surrounding territory under N. A. Lucas, initiator, is opening a membership campaign today in which the lodge expects to more than double its present membership of 175.

District Deputy Supervisor M. L. Cash, who conducted a membership campaign here last year, is in charge of this campaign. He pointed out that numerous accomplishments for the betterment of Santa Ana lodge has been made and they now have one of the most beautiful lodge homes in Orange county, with club rooms, two lodge halls, and a ball room.

"Much credit is due to officers, committee, and managers of teams connected with the lodge in the efficient way they have progressed," he asserted and called special attention to Manager Charles Cathcart and the Moose ball team.

The Moose drill team under the leadership of Drill Master Jack Dill, and Band Master J. W. Collins, of the Santa Ana Music store, and his Moose band which will make its first appearance in public on Armistice day and with about 40 pieces.

Supervisor Cash has visited many lodges in California and Nevada in the past few months and states that he knows of no lodge that has made such rapid progress.

The first large class of the campaign will be initiated October 27, which is Mooseheart day and the birthday of the director general of the order, Senator James J. Davis, of Pennsylvania. Many visitors from surrounding lodges will attend this class initiation as well as supreme officers of the order.

Supervisor Cash has moved here and is no residing with his family at 1228 Maple street.

HEADS DRIVE

M. L. Cash, below, has moved to Santa Ana and will have charge of a membership campaign for the Santa Ana Loyal Order of Moose. He is a deputy district supervisor of the order.

fore Superior Judge James L. Allen on an information filed by Assistant District Attorney S. B. Kaufman. Her trial was set for November 9 and 10 and the court set her bond at $1000, which she had been unable to make at noon today.

The woman is accused of arson in connection with a fire which partially destroyed her home at 606 Daisy street on October 2. She was represented by Morris Cain at today's hearing and will have a jury trial.

Charlotte Reid Called By Death

Miss Charlotte Avril Reid, 25, of Portland, Ore., who came to Santa Ana six months ago, died yesterday at her home here, 815 West Bishop street.

She is survived by a brother, Roswell F. Reid, of Santa Ana, and an aunt, Mrs. P. H. Stutz, who came here with her from Portland.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. tomorrow at the Harrell and Brown Funeral home with the Rev. W. S. Buchanan officiating.

ODD FELLOWS AWARD PRIZES THIS EVENING

The closing session of the Grand Encampment of Odd Fellows was held this morning in the Fullerton Odd Fellows' temple at which time Guy B. Troxel, newly elected grand patriarch, was installed along with the other officers who were elected yesterday morning.

The session this morning included the winding up of reports and other business matters which were required to carry the order over until its next annual meeting in Modesto. Several resolutions were passed.

The closing session of the auxiliary was held this morning in the Odd Fellows' temple. A program was scheduled at the high school athletic field this afternoon. This ceremony is known as the grand decoration and the decoration of chivalry on Chevaliers—an honor that is bestowed to individuals who have performed some worthy service on behalf of the lodge during the last year.

The convention will close with the awarding of prizes at the high school gymnasium this evening for the drill teams which won in the competitive contests earlier in the week. Following this award, the Grand Encampment will come to a fitting close with the grand ball, which will be held at the Fullerton Union high school gymnasium.

Last night at Irvine park, 1200 guests were served at a huge barbecue under the direction of Arch Bault from six serving stands. After the supper, the guests enjoyed dancing at the pavilion.

Fullerton members who assisted in making the convention in this city a success were Harry Bell, executive chairman; J. F. Conkey, secretary, A. McAulay, finance; C. J. Maurahan, grand ball; Wade Quarten, reception; Bert Annin, camp at park; A. S. Johnston, music; Joe Batchman, encampment hall; Henry Patton, street parade; George A. Crosby,

"FATIGUE?"

I just postpone it!"

"No, I don't have 'nerves.' You can't have them, and hold this sort of position. My head used to throb around three o'clock, and certain days, of course, were worse than others.

"Then I learned to rely on Bayer Aspirin."

The sure cure for any headache is rest. But sometimes we must postpone it. That's when Bayer Aspirin saves the day. Two tablets, and the nagging pain is gone until you are home. And once you are comfortable, the pain seldom returns!

Keep Bayer Aspirin handy. Don't put it away, or put off taking it. Fighting a headache to finish the day may be heroic, but it is also a little foolish. So is sacrificing a night's sleep because you've an annoying cold, or irritated throat, or grumbling tooth, neuralgia, neuritis. These tablets always relieve. They don't depress the heart, and may be taken freely. That is medical opinion. It is a fact established by the last twenty years of medical practice.

The only caution to be observed is when you are buying aspirin. Bayer is genuine. Tablets with the Bayer cross are safe.

DISTRICT P.-T.A. IN SESSION AT LAGUNA BEACH

Beginning next September, child hygiene is to be taught in the California public schools through text books used in regular classroom work, according to Dr. P. O. Kaps, of Santa Ana, who addressed the Fourth District Parent-Teacher Federation convention at Laguna Beach yesterday.

Dr. Kaps has been associated with a group of experts who have been drafting a manual on child hygiene in collaboration with the state department of education, it is learned. He is the district child hygiene chairman and made a plea to the heads of local clubs to appoint chairmen for the several units. This group will meet once a month during the next year, in various cities of the district, for the study of the subject, so that the discussion may be carried into the local associations.

Objects to be attained in this work will be safe and sanitary school buildings, watching of the personal habits of the children, the right food, fresh air, restful sleep, care of the body and right thinking.

Physical activities of the children are to be studied. Dr. Kaps says there is evidence to show that many heart cases may be traced by physicians back to grade school physical activities.

Mrs. Florence Summers of Newport Beach, chairman of citizenship, outlined her program for the year, declaring that because of the economic depression, the whole world is wobbling, but allegiance to the Constitution is going to hold this country fast.

Mrs. Mary B. Robertson of Santa Ana, Fourth District president, called the meeting to order. George K. Bingham, superintendent of schools in Laguna Beach, gave the address of welcome.

"What the child gets from his companions and on the street is not always of the best," said Superintendent Bingham. "Leisure time today is not what it used to be. Nearly all time out of school now is leisure time. Children used to help with many phases of housework that now are not done at home. The laundry is sent out, electrical and other appliances do much of the work that children were called upon to assist with. With modern devices doing so much of the work it is a problem how we should take care of the child's leisure hours."

"There are hundreds of men today with incomes of more than a million dollars a year and other are walking the streets looking for work or food. There must be adjustments. Our ideas of morality are changing. It is our duty to train the children to settle these problems when their time comes to take over the affairs of government."

Mrs. A. B. Goff, president of the Laguna Beach association, was introduced as the official hostess.

Mrs. C. E. Turner of Redondo Beach, state recording secretary and past estate parliamentarian, gave an interesting and instructive talk on parliamentary law, its necessity in the proper conduct of meetings, and the value of its training.

Following the morning session, a luncheon was served in the school cafeteria. There one of the traveling art exhibits which are sent out by the Laguna Beach Art Association under patronage of the Fourth district, was shown. It was in charge of Mrs. Joseph Kleitsch, Laguna Beach art chairman.

Hold Conference In Church Sunday

WINTERSBURG, Oct. 16.—The first quarterly conference of the year is announced for Sunday morning at the Wintersburg Methodist church with Dr. James A. Geissinger, district superintendent in charge. The hours for the morning services have been changed on account of the conference, the Sunday school opening at 9:45 as usual, and church services at which Dr. Geissinger will occupy the pulpit, at 10:30 followed by the conference at 11:30 o'clock.

All evening services, beginning Sunday, are changed back one half hour, to continue through the winter months. As a result, the three Epworth league groups will convene at 6:30 o'clock with church services following at 7:15 o'clock.

Adkinson Speaks At Lions Session

GARDEN GROVE, Oct. 16.—Ray Adkinson, county superintendent of schools, was the principal speaker at the Lions club luncheon Wednesday at the Ocean Inn. Adkinson spoke on the recent convention held by state superintendents of schools.

An invitation was extended to the local club to attend the meeting of the Santa Ana Lions club on Friday, when they expect to have Governor James Rolph as speaker. The meeting will be held at noon in the American Legion hall.

The next week will be home coming week for the Garden Grove Lions club. Charter members and old members of the club will be guests.

$1.60 Tax Rate Set By Council

SEAL BEACH, Oct. 16.—At the bi-monthly meeting of the Seal Beach council last night, a letter was read from the Long Beach Business Men's association which requested co-operation of the council in securing the erection of a large sign at the intersection of Hathaway drive and the Coast highway. The sign is to direct traffic down the coast highway to the main business sections of Long Beach.

At the final reading of the ordinance the following rate was adopted: General fund tax, $1; bond tax, $.50; advertising tax, $.05; deficiency tax, $.05; making a total of $1.60.

Council Studies Insurance Bids

LA HABRA, Oct. 16.—At a special meeting of the La Habra city council Wednesday evening for the purpose of opening bids for the insurance of all motor vehicles owned by the city, a committee was appointed to study the bids before placing the insurance. Councilmen A. B. Thurner and John T. Knudson were appointed. City Clerk A. C. Earley was authorized to purchase a second hand safe for the city hall in which to keep city records and documents.

Councilmen A. B. Thurner and H. A. Robinson were appointed to work with City Engineer J. B. Sanks on the water question.

CLASS CONVENES BREA, Oct. 16.—Suggestions of the Tallowsen season were carried out in the decorations and refreshments used when the Bible Searchers class of the Christian church met in the annex of the church for the monthly business and social gathering.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hirth, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Sutt, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kaylor, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Sutliff, Mr. and Mrs. John Gnagy, Mr. and Mrs. Olin Sutliff, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brawley, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sutliff, Bruce Yarnell, Mrs. Myrtle Bachman, Mr. Kaylor, father of Chester Kaylor, Glenadeen Sutliff, Marilyn Brawley, Joan Sutliff and Shirley Kaylor.

Following the short business meeting refreshments of coffee, doughnuts and popcorn were served and a pleasant social evening was enjoyed.

BUENA PARK

The Henry Page home on West Orangethorpe has been chosen for the next meeting of the Study circle of the Fullerton High School Parent-Teacher association in November.

BREA SCHOOL STUDENTS GIVE CLUB PROGRAM

BREA, Oct. 16.—Brea grammar schools were featured in the program presented before the Lions club here yesterday noon, arrangements having been in the hands of Vincent Jaster, principal of the Brea school.

W. E. Fanning presided in the absence of Ed Curtis, president, and presented as guests, Sheriff Logan Jackson and M. P. Gilliland, manager of the Southern California Telephone company.

Jaster presented Miss Ruby Thorpe, who favored with two delightful Irish ballads, accompanied at the piano by Miss Margaret Davis. William Schlichte, instructor in the manual arts department of the Brea grammar school, had 15 of his boys with him and presented them in a demonstration of pyramid building and other stunts which proved most interesting.

Sheriff Jackson spoke briefly and George Henigan Jr. announced the football schedule of the Brea-Covina Union High school.

The Lions club committee, appointed to work in conjunction with a chamber of commerce committee in an effort to retain the full time service of the Pacific Electric Railway company into Brea, was instructed to contact the other committee at once. The Lions club committee comprises W. W. Hay, chairman, E. H. Peterson, Harlan LeGros, Jack Phillips, L. A. Hogue, W. A. Culp and J. R. Collins. The other committee is headed by Walker Davis.

SOCIALS HELD BY 2 CHURCH GROUPS

WINTERSBURG, Oct. 16.—Among church activities this week was a missionary tea held in the home of Mrs. Hugh Atkins when a social hour of games was enjoyed with delicious refreshments served at the close of the afternoon. The women present were Mrs. Albert Ruoff, Mrs. M. Cowling, Mrs. David Russell, Mrs. E. M. Fox, Mrs. A. Stefanzi, Mrs. W. F. Slater, Mrs. Young, Mrs. R. L. Thiebaud, Mrs. W. A. Matson, and Mrs. Hugh Atkins.

Mrs. John Murdy Jr. was hostess Wednesday at her home to the Woman's Home missionary society and a feature was the voting of a "mystary mother" for each of the Queen Esther girls, this organization being under the supervision of the Missionary society.

Mrs. David Russell led the devotionals at the meeting and Mrs. E. M. Fox as program leader gave current news events and called upon others for interesting bits gleaned from the newspapers. The next meeting in November is scheduled for the home of Mrs. Matson with Mrs. Hugh Atkins as program leader.

Present at Wednesday's meeting were Mesdames John Murdy, David Russell, Maude Mitchell, George Gothard, T. J. Holt, Charles Graham, Albert Ruoff, E. M. Fox, L. S. Moore, C. E. Pratt, E. Ray Moore, Hugh Atkins, William Chapman, Vernon Hall, George Harding, W. F. Slater, Raymond Beem, C. H. Matson.

Rolland Smith Dies in Colorado

WESTMINSTER, Oct. 16.—Friends of Rolland Smith will be grieved to learn of his death in Colorado, where the family went five months ago, Mr. Smith having secured employment which called him to that state. Mr. Smith, who was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Smith who reside on the Bader place on Seventeenth street, was employed on Ned Clinton's dairy ranch while here and also resided for a time in Smeitler. The father was with his son and daughter-in-law and the two young grandchildren when he passed away at 5 o'clock October 12.

WILLIAMSBURG, Va.—An old Latin composition book, published in 1530, has come into possession of William and Mary college, a gift from Justice Robert F. Thompson of the New York supreme court. Across the title page is the inscription penned in ink: "From the library of Chief Justice Marshall, obtained at Richmond—J. K. P." J. K. P. was James Kirk Paulding, a famous American author (1779-1860).

BLOOD PRESSURE MAY BE REDUCED

High blood pressure is not only dangerous, but entails suffering which often is needless. But you can get rid of the kidney and bladder weakness, blinding headaches, back-break pains and torturing nerve tension while reducing pressure.

Ask your druggist for a box of Wildunger Tee, which contains valuable mineral salts from the famous Wildunger Bad in Germany. Unless the very first box brings grateful, comforting relief, your money back. A New York doctor, while traveling in Germany, was so impressed with the results thousands were securing from this great kidney and bladder activator that he brought Wildunger Tee to this country. Many American doctors now prescribe it and report that its benefits are equally surprising here.

You can get Wildunger Tee on the distinct understanding that unless it helps, your money will be refunded to you. It may be had at C. S. Kelley, Druggist, 101 East 4th street, Santa Ana.—Adv.

The Case of the Missing Sandals

By Nancy Barr Mavity

"The seventeenth," Peter replied. "Why?"

Terry stopped short on the path and rapped his forehead against Peter's breast bone for emphasis.

"It's the day before the full moon, that's why," he said solemnly.

"Maybe it is, but what has that to do with it?" Peter asked in bewilderment.

"It's got a lot to do with it. There's always a crime wave around the full moon—crimes and suicides. Every time."

Peter laughed uncertainly. It didn't seem much of a joke, but it was incredible that the big Irish patrolman actually believed in occult influences of the moon.

"I'm not fooling. I've kept a record for the past seventeen years, and it's an absolute fact."

Peter stared in blank astonishment. For once in his life he had absolutely nothing to say. Terry was no man, emotional mystic, recruited for one of the numerous cults of which the Luna colony was an example. He was a middle-aged, hard-headed policeman. And yet he, too, had his superstitions.

Peter suddenly felt as if the world held a great many more factors in the crime which worried him. There was probably nothing intelligible in the whole affair, because Luna and her followers must be half cracked. Well, at this rate, if he happened to discover it, half the world might be hiding some hidden belief in witchcraft and occult powers.

There was a psychopathic element in the murder—that Peter had felt certain, although he had forborne to use the word to Oleson. Oleson regarded any mention of the psychopathic as a device of defense lawyers to keep criminals out of the Big House.

The crossed arms, the love letters above them—they were out of the ordinary, even in a crime of passion. And, in addition, one must suppose that the murderer had left the house, looked through the window from outside, and shot his victim after stabbing her.

Perhaps she had not been quite dead—she might have stirred, and he had fired to make death assured, or to put her out of misery.

It was the work of a mind, not damaged, perhaps, but certainly not working with cool normality. It had seemed to narrow the field at least partially. But if even policemen were going to take moon magic seriously, there was no telling what might turn up. Instead of being a more or less recognized psychopath, the murderer of Luna might as likely as not be the traffic cop at the corner!

Peter's desire to hear what Vincent had to say was doomed to disappointment, though through no fault of the police. For Vincent had disappeared; and the circumstances of his departure were such as to bring his name to the front.

Don't Go to Extremes To End Constipation

When bad breath, or a coated tongue, biliousness or headaches warn of constipation, don't take violent purgatives. There's no use when a candy Cascaret will stop the trouble in a jiffy; will cleanse your system pleasantly, and completely.

The relief you get so promptly from Cascarets is lasting. Cascarets are made from cascara, a substance which medical authorities agree actually strengthens the bowel muscles.

So Cascarets are a blessing to old folks with weakened bowels; to children; to anyone in need of establishing regular bowel habits. Ten cents a box—all drug stores.

page of the Herald under the banner line, "Witch Murder Suspect Oleson." Indeed, relaxed from the more serious aspect of the state-wide hunt long enough to ask Peter, with a pardonable air of I-told-you-so: "What price corroboration now?"

Vincent had been traced without difficulty to one of the new apartments on Alvarado avenue—the nearest practicable abode to the side road leading to the Luna colony. So far the trail was wide and clear. Although he had moved there recently, he had filled his address with the postoffice under his own name, and his card was affixed to one of the row of mail boxes in the outer vestibule. But Vincent himself was not to be found.

Oleson's visit to the apartment house, however, was by no means devoid of items of interest. For one thing, he found a framed photograph of Luna occupying a position of state on the top of the bureau.

For another, a tenant had heard hastily ascending footsteps some time during the night of the murder—just when she was unable to say—and had been sufficiently curious to open her door and peer out into the hall. She had caught a glimpse of a back which she was sure was Vincent's, and, a scant five minutes later, had popped back under cover just in time to avoid being seen by Vincent, who was bounding down the stairs three at a time, a suitcase in his hand.

The same witness, an elderly widow who lived alone, with few interests beyond those afforded by observing her neighbors, had several times encountered Vincent at the outer entrance, and recalled distinctly that he inserted his key with his left hand.

Oleson fairly beamed at this last bit of information.

"Still," Peter objected, "it's funny he'd be making a getaway after murdering the woman, and then leave her picture in plain sight to link him with it. And you'd think he'd have come upstairs quietly, instead of making all that racket."

"He was rattled. He hadn't set out with the intention of killing her, and he lost his head. You never can tell what fool things people will do when they're rattled," Oleson expounded.

Peter was obliged to admit the logic of Oleson's contention. It was, he had to confess, precisely because Vincent's reactions had followed no normal line, supposing that he had struck in passion and then fled in terror, that some corner of Peter's mind remained unconvinced.

Everything seemed accounted for—except the persistent element of queeriness in the crime, the hypodermic so cleverly concealed, which Luna did not use; the missing shoes; the strange circuit of the house, the look through the window, followed by the rifle shot. But when he remembered the policeman Terry's excursion into lunar criminology, he was forced to assume a possible underlying queeriness in the most unexpected quarters. Peter's confidence in his own mastery of psychology, in fact, had sustained a disconcerting blow.

A certain latent and irrational skepticism, however, was vanquished by the irrefutable finding of common sense in the two days that followed the discovery of Earl Vincent's disappearance. The young man's father, promptly unearched by the police in the mysterious hidden catacombs of a downtown hotel where he had functioned as an inviolable minor employee for fourteen years, gave a disquieting account of his son's actions. He was obviously too bewildered and terrified to tell anything but the truth.

Peter, who had the idea of supplementing the questions of the police with some inquiries of his own, found him horrified, grief-stricken and incredulous.

He had the air of a man jerked out of a familiar twilight routine whose every turn he could have traversed blindfold, into a world of chaos where the very ground under his feet had been hurled asunder by earthquake. He blinked at Peter with a blind helplessness of pain, smoothing his thin gray hair with trembling fingers, again and again returning to a single reiterated refrain:

"I don't see how he could have done it. I'd never thought of it."

He lacked the perspicacity to guess the trend of Peter's questions which ranged beyond the police investigation. Obviously it had not occurred to him to seek a possible insanity defense for his son.

No, Earl had never had explosions of rage. He wasn't moody or peevish in any way. He made friends readily, and kept them—a perfectly ordinary, likable boy, until "that woman" (a brief spark of antagonism lighted the watery old eyes) got hold of him.

He'd been going with a nice girl, and they all thought that marriage would be just a matter of time, when he met this Luna on the boat where he was radio operator.

"He just lost his head over her completely," Vincent said. "I told him she was out of his class—used to have more money in a week than he could ever make in a year. She was only playing with him—anybody could see that who wasn't blind. But you couldn't tell him anything. He acted plum bewitched."

There was no mistaking the old man's bitterness, and his belief in the malign and potent influence which Luna had exercised over his son's life.

"She was older than him, too. She shouldn't of acted like that with a boy that was just a kid at heart. I tell you, if Earl's went wrong, it's that woman's fault and she got what was coming to her!" He smote his thin knee with a trembling fist.

"He gave up his job on the boat because he saw he'd never save up enough that way to get her, and he wanted to be in town all the time, where she was. Earl's a steady boy, but he'd never in the wide world make what that woman would call money. I've been worrying about him lately—scared he might be getting into bad company." Vincent's voice wavered into silence.

As to the precise nature of the bad company Peter could get nothing more out of him. Once or twice secretive young men had met Earl at his father's house by appointment and had been closeted with him on business which the boy refused to divulge. They had parked their car around the corner in the alley and had looked swiftly and cautiously up and down the street before leaving the house.

"It was after he found out she was already married that I got worried for fear he was going wrong," the old man reverted to his grievance against Luna.

"To whom was she married?" Peter asked quickly.

"I never heard the last name—Earl called him Anthony. Maybe she just said that to try to get rid of him. But Earl had the idea that if he only had the money, he could persuade her to get a divorce and marry him."

Peter's lips puckered in a silent whistle. Anthony—Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Anthony had been the name on the joint checking account.

"And the girl—the girl he used to have—what's become of her?"

Peter, who had the idea of sup-

he asked with elaborate casualness. Jealousy worked both ways. Earl Vincent, jealous of the husband, jealous perhaps of other rivals as well, caught in the coils of a hopeless infatuation and desperate because he lacked the money to buy fulfillment of his dreams. It was a reasonable picture.

"But the other girl who had been in love with him and was forced to give him up not only to a rival, but to a rival whose predominant influence was evil, disintegrating the character of the man she loved—that picture also might repay closer inspection."

"She's a nice girl, Ruth Morgan, and she was mighty fond of Earl. She's had a lot to stand from my boy, first and last. A good, capable girl, with a nice position, secretary in a lawyer's office. She and Earl could have got along fine. Plenty of spunk, too! But it wore on her, you could tell that, all the more as she's got pride and kept a stiff upper lip."

"She quit her job last week. Said she was going off for a vacation all by herself. I don't know but it was the best thing she could 'a' done."

"Where did she go, do you know?" Peter with difficulty suppressed the eagerness of his voice.

"No, I don't. And if I did, I wouldn't tell you," the old man responded with sudden heat.

"She's been through enough. Don't you go and try to drag her into this. She's a good girl, I tell you!" And with that, Peter for the time being was forced to be content.

"If Earl done it, he ought to be punished, I know that," Vincent said miserably. "It's just that I can't quite figure my boy doing a thing like that, and running away. Ya put it in the papers that I want he should come home. I haven't much, he knows that, but say I'll stand by him, no matter what he done. He's my boy, after all."

"I don't want him to run away from what he done, and I'll help him all I can. Will you put that in?"

Peter nodded. There was nothing he could offer in the way of encouragement, but his sympathy for the old man was genuine. There might, just conceivably, be some other explanation of Earl Vincent's flight, but it looked more than suspicious. Even Peter's habitual skepticism was not proof against the obvious deductions of common sense.

Ten to one, Vincent was guilty, and he had riveted the assumption of his guilt into something near certitude by his disappearance. His own acts had outrun the need of further proof.

The picture drawn by Earl's father of an ordinary, normal youth caught in the web of an overwhelming infatuation appealed to Peter's pity, despite his growing belief in Vincent's guilt. He would not be clever enough to get away with it, that was certain!

B. TARKINGTON STORY MOVIE IS ENDORSED

Endorsement of the motion picture "Penrod and Sam" from the story by Booth Tarkington, which opens today in Santa Ana at the Fox West Coast theater, is contained in a letter to Norman Sprol, theater manager, from Dr. Percy R. Davis, superintendent of Santa Ana schools.

In commenting on the picture and commending Sprol for bringing it to this city, Dr. Davis pointed out that the film had already received the endorsement and praise of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, the Daughters of the American Revolution, the General Federation of Women's clubs, the Los Angeles branch of the American Association of University Women, the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae and the California Motion Picture Council among others.

He went on to say:

"It is to be sincerely hoped that the public in Santa Ana and throughout the nation will respond to the efforts of the motion picture companies in producing pictures of this type, in order that more and more we may place before our young people clean, wholesome, refreshing entertainment such as that presented in this Tarkington story."

PLAN BOX SOCIAL

BUENA PARK, Oct. 16.—The Intermediate Christian Endeavorers will hold a box social for the benefit of new song books this evening, with Mr. and Mrs. Walter McKenzle on the committee and the Rev. W. L. Newman in charge.

BEACH POST OFFICE TO ACCEPT SAVINGS

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 16.—The Newport post office became a postal savings bank yesterday. Requests of patrons of the office brought about the addition of the postal savings department.

FULL SCHEDULE ARRANGED AT CAMP ROKILI

Camp Rokili, county Boy Scout recreation center in the San Bernardino mountains, is proving popular for week and outings during the fall and winter, it is indicated by the arrangements completed by county troops for camp reservations.

Every week end during October has been filled, according to the county executive headquarters of the Boy Scout organization. Anaheim troops and Long Beach scouts, under C. L. Appling, were in camp during the first and second Saturdays this month.

Next Saturday troop 72, Anaheim, under Scoutmaster Earl Fulfer, will drive to Rokili. The following week end, two La Habra troops, No. 96, led by Scoutmaster E. R. Berry, and No. 98 under Scoutmasters M. A. Douth and H. O. Wright, have reserved camp. Both these troops are sponsored by the La Habra American Legion post.

The last week end of the month has been secured by Yorba Linda troop No. 99, sponsored by the Masonic lodge. Francis Addy is the scoutmaster.

During the Thanksgiving holidays, November 27 and 28, beach troops in the Newport, Costa Mesa and Laguna Beach districts will drive to Rokili. Scouts from other troops as well as planning to go to the camp for a Thanksgiving outing, it is learned.

SCHOOL TEACHERS RECEPTION GUESTS

GARDEN GROVE, Oct. 16.—The Parent-Teacher association held a reception for teachers of the Garden Grove Union High school Tuesday evening. A chicken dinner was served at 7 o'clock to 120 members.

The decorations were in keeping with the Halloween season. Mrs. Waer, Mrs. A. Smiley and Mrs. Genevieve Fordling were in charge of the decorations.

J. A. Knapp acted as toastmaster. The teachers were introduced by Principal L. L. Doig and each gave his name and department of work. Mr. Knapp, on behalf of the P. T. A., presented Mr. Doig with a basket of lovely flowers. Following dinner games were enjoyed.

The charge of the dinner was Mrs. A. F. Miles, chairman; Mrs. E. A. Wakeham and Mrs. Ralph Chaffee.

4-H Boys Guests Of Center Oct. 19

YORBA LINDA, Oct. 16.—The Yorba Linda Farm center will celebrate the completion of another year of successful 4-H club work by making the four 4-H clubs of Yorba Linda the guests of the regular October meeting, to be held at the Women's clubhouse October 19.

Following the election of officers, a program will be given by the 4-H clubs which will exemplify the leading activities and accomplishments of these proteges of the farm bureau during the past year.

The meeting will be in the form of a supper. Bread, meat, coffee and sugar will be furnished by the farm center. The clubs will provide entertainment. A. R. Marshburn, president, announces.

EDISON ADOPTS FIVE DAY PLAN TO SAVE JOBS

All departments of the Southern California Edison company, Ltd., are now on a five-day week schedule with corresponding pay adjustments, according to an announcement today from District Manager Rodney Bacon, in charge of the Santa Ana office. A similar announcement is being sent to preferred stock holders of the company by John B. Miller, chairman of the board of directors.

The statement released today said: "Effective September 1, all departments of Southern California Edison company, limited, were placed on a five day week schedule with corresponding pay adjustments. The plan was first introduced in some departments in May, was extended to include several more groups in August and 30 days later was made operative throughout the organization. All officers and department heads have received similar adjustments in compensation.

"This readjustment was made in order to spread out the available work over a larger number of employees and thus provide work for some 500 employees who might otherwise have been released. To discharge a large number of our employees at a time when it is extremely difficult for anyone, even a highly skilled specialist, to obtain a new position, was of course highly undesirable."

GARDEN GROVE PIANO PUPILS PLAN PROGRAM

GARDEN GROVE, Oct. 16.—The piano pupils of Mrs. J. Orland Smith will meet for their monthly recital Saturday at 9 o'clock in the Masonic hall.

The following program, with Ruth Keels presiding, will be given: "Little Attie of Dreams," Gray and "The Bella," Williams, by Phyllis May Inge. "A Woodland Frolic," Valdemar, by Betty Peck. "Ins: quartet, "Ding Dong," Billno, by Hazel Bowers, Bethel Bowers, Grace Bowers, Mrs. Smith; "Phantom's Passing By," Williams, by Grace Bowers; demonstration of tonal vibrations by Jacqueline Todd. "Cabin Dance," Baines, by Mrs. Vasser Lee Rinks; "Minuet in G," Bach, by Ruth Keels; duet, "Peek-a-boo," Crann, by Phyllis Mae Inge and Mrs. L. M. Inge. "Curious Story," Heller, by Jacqueline Todd. Reading, "Music Brownies," La Carte, Betty Perkins; ancient musical instruments, Ruth Keels; duet, "May-Time," Beer, by Jacqueline Todd and Mrs. Smith; demonstration of tonal vibrations possible on the piano by Grace Bower; duet, "Country Band," Johnson, by Bethel Bowers and Mrs. Smith.

Farewell Party Held For Priest

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 16.—About 125 members of St. Simon and Jude's Catholic church gathered at Memorial hall last night for the farewell party in honor of the Rev. Father John Condon, for the past five or six years pastor of the Catholic church here.

The Rev. Father Condon has been transferred to a Los Angeles Catholic church. The new pastor for the church here will be the Rev. Father Genest, who served this parish many years ago when the church was small.

BROTHERHOOD MEETS STANTON, Oct. 16.—The first Brotherhood meeting of this year was held in the Alamitos social hall Tuesday evening. A large crowd was in attendance. Carl Nichols, president of the association, presided. Prof. David Henley of Whittier college, gave the main address of the evening. Mrs. Campbell, teacher in the Alamitos school, had charge of the musical program. Mrs. Agnes Carter gave a reading. Members of the missionary society served the dinner.

Legion Post Prepares For Membership Campaign

ORANGE PLANS ARMISTICE DAY PARADE ENTRY

ORANGE, Oct. 16.—A martial spirit was induced last night at the regular meeting of the American Legion by the appearance of the Santa Ana Drum and Bugle corps. A number of lively airs were played before and during the meeting. A large delegation of Santa Ana Post members accompanied the corps to Orange.

The speaker of the evening was Judge J. B. Tucker, who spoke on the expected increase in membership of the American Legion posts throughout the nation. The next meeting will be featured by a dinner, when the membership campaign will be begun. It was announced by Lynn Wallace, newly installed commander who presided at the meeting.

Membership was discussed and it was stated that an effort will be made to exceed that of last year when the roster held 252 names. Ewald Wagner is the membership committee chairman.

Plans for the float to be entered in the Armistice day parade were furthered and Claude Potter will have charge of the entry.

A report of the national convention was given by George Fransen, delegate to the convention. Fransen is the fifth area commander and is past commander of the Orange post.

EL MODENA

Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Evans have returned from a delightful vacation spent with relatives and friends in Mrs. Evans' former home town Condon, Ore.

John House, of San Juan Capistrano, was a recent all day guest in the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bricks.

Mrs. Joseph Bricks, Mrs. Horace Moore and Mrs. Elmer Koenig were among those from El Modena to attend the funeral of Miss Edna Enoch Monday afternoon.

BIRTHDAY OBSERVED

ORANGE, Oct. 16.—Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Fletcher, 264 North Cleveland street, were hosts at a charmingly appointed dinner recently on the occasion of the birthday of their daughter, Mrs. Earle Hubert (Melva Fletcher) of Los Angeles. The table was centered with asters in tints of orchid and pink and a big birthday cake on which glowed an appropriate number of candles was served with the dessert course.

Present other than the hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Hubert and two close friends, Miss Mildred Freking and Erwin Piper of Los Angeles.

PASTOR OPENS SERMON SERIES ON 'MARRIAGE'

ORANGE, Oct. 16.—The first of a series of sermons on "Marriage" was given last evening by the Rev. Franklin H. Minck at the Christian church, from 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the church, with commendation of some things in Christian service.

"Why the Christian Science Church Doesn't Perform Wedding Ceremonies" was the topic last evening. The second sermon of the series will be given next Thursday evening on the topic, "Why the Catholic Church Remarries Couples Who Were Married by the Priest," with a commendation of some things in Catholicism.

An appreciative audience was made up of many outside of the local congregation. "No Longer Lonely" was sung by the choir. Announcement was made of the sermon topic for Sunday, "Is God Almighty," with the newly organized high school choir singing under the direction of Mrs. Walter Kogler. Announcement was made that the last two sermons of the series on October 29 and November 5 will be given over radio station KREG from 4 to 4:30 p. m.

INDIA, ALASKA MISSION WORK IS DISCUSSED

ORANGE, Oct. 16.—Missions established by the Presbyterian church in the frozen wastes of Alaska and those sponsored by the same society in tropical India were discussed by speakers at the regular meeting of the Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon, when Mrs. Flo Scarritt presided at the meeting.

Mrs. R. W. Jones traced the history of the earliest missions in Alaska, stating that Mrs. A. F. McFarland had established the first in that country in 1876. Cannibalism had existed in that country at that time, she said. S. Hall Young followed Mrs. McFarland and at the present time, two-thirds of the work done along these lines in Alaska is by the Presbyterian church, Mrs. Jones said.

From the first mission project, 88 mission stations have resulted. Mrs. Jones said, and at the present time there are 27 native churches and five churches for missions are the school at Sitka, where grades range from kindergarten classes to a complete high school course, and the orphanage at Haines, which houses 50 children.

Mrs. Jones told of St. Lawrence island, where she said mail was received but once a year. The island is 40 miles off the Siberian coast. Mrs. Jones told members of the society that a new church was soon to be dedicated at Fairbanks with Dr. John Youel, brother of M. B. Youel, of Santa Ana, as the pastor.

Mrs. Lucien Filippin and Mrs. Earl Crawford, who made a trip to Alaska the past summer, gave informal talks on their journey and brought with them a number of beautiful Indian baskets the work of Alaskan Indians.

Mrs. B. M. Culter spoke on mission work in India and told of the great temple Taj Mahal. She related something of the doctrines of the religions of India.

India sent more soldiers to the World war than any other colonial possession except England, and the broadened outlook of these soldiers, resulting from their experience, was one of the causes of the movement for progress in India today, the speaker said.

Former Resident Of Orange Chief Of Flying Staff

ORANGE, Oct. 16.—Orange friends of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin H. Myers, who have resided at 527 East Maple avenue, for 13 years, will be interested in the achievement of their son, George Myers, who is chief of the flying staff of the Boeing School of Aeronautics at the Oakland airport, and has a record of 6000 hours of flying time.

Myers learned to fly with the Army Air corps in 1919 and was stationed with the reserves at North Platte, Neb. In 1923, he became an air mail pilot, and in 1927 when the Boeing company took over the Chicago-San Francisco air mail contract, Myers was placed on the Omaha to Chicago run which he flew for two years.

When air mail was delivered in Chicago on the same day it left San Francisco, Myers had an important part in the record making flight. He piloted the plane carrying 40,000 letters from Omaha, and completed the flight to Chicago, flying 433 miles in two hours' time.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith, of East Palm avenue, were recent guests in the home of relatives residing in Villa Park.

Mr. and Mrs. John Holditch and daughter, Gwendolyn, of Palm Springs, were recent guests in the home of relatives residing in Villa Park.

SCIENCE EXHIBIT ROOM FOR SCHOOL

ORANGE, Oct. 16.—Of interest to the community as well as to students of the Orange union high school is the announcement that a science exhibit room is to be established at the school. The need of such a building has been felt on several occasions. Persons in the city having interesting collections of various sorts have offered to loan them to the school. Heretofore the school could not accept the offers owing to the fact that no safe place to keep the exhibits was available.

The room is to be established in the science building in what was formerly the recitation room. Glass cases are to be placed in the room and several cupboards are to be built with glass shelves which are adjustable.

It is expected that collections of butterflies, insects of other kinds, fossils, flower and weed collections will soon be in place in the room.

FRUIT MEN TO TALK AT FARM CENTER MEET

ORANGE, Oct. 16.—The annual meeting of the West Orange Farm center will be held at the American Legion clubhouse Tuesday, opening with a 6:30 o'clock dinner. At this time the report of the nominating committee will be made and the directors' and other reports will be heard.

John W. Crill, president of the Orange County Farm bureau, will talk on "Reviewing the 1931 Farm Bureau Activities and Looking Ahead Toward 1932."

The important discussion will be centered about the equalization fee, which is to come before congress this winter. J. A. Smiley, state director, will explain the fee which it is said, is favored by farmers of the middle west and south.

The topic will be discussed from the standpoint, "Will the Equalization Fee Aid in the Citrus Industry?"

C. C. Hills, manager of the Orange County Fruit exchange; R. E. Gross, manager of the Santiago Orange Growers' association; L. F. Finley, manager of the Orange Mutual Citrus association; Frank Collins, manager of the Consolidated Orange Growers' association; A. D. Smiley, manager of the Richmond Walnut association, and others have been invited to attend this meeting, and will participate in the discussion of this subject.

cases are to be placed in the room and several cupboards are to be built with glass shelves which are adjustable.

It is expected that collections of butterflies, insects of other kinds, fossils, flower and weed collections will soon be in place in the room.

21,662 Miles Without Draining the Crank Case!

GILMORE LION HEAD MOTOR OIL

THE brand new Plymouth, piloted by Gus Duray, covered the equivalent of 2 years' travel in 31 days. The motor was never stopped in 744 continuous hours. The motor was never given a chance to cool off. The crankcase was never drained. Fresh Gilmore Lion Head Motor Oil was added, a quart at a time, to keep the proper level. Only 15 quarts were consumed. Total oil expense, $5.25. The oil remaining in the crankcase was still light in color and good for thousands more miles, according to chemists who tested it. Lion Head Motor Oil did not break down.

How's that for a test? How's that for cutting oil costs? How's that for proof of positive lubrication? What other motor oil could stand such a test?

We don't recommend your driving like this, but it does prove that you can drive farther with assurance of efficient lubrication when you use Gilmore Lion Head Motor Oil... the most highly filtered motor oil in America.

ONE-ACT PLAY BY CHILDREN NEW FEATURE

Offering a new feature on the children's program directed by Lorena Cuddy, station KREG will present a one-act play, "A Lesson in Spelling," tonight at 6 o'clock. The play will feature Mary Willough Hunter and her brother David, two talented children who have appeared on several other children's hour programs, broadcast from the Santa Ana station.

In addition to the playlet, Glen Leighton will play several numbers on the steel guitar and Leola Worthington will present a series of piano numbers. Little Bobby Whisenack, vocalist, also will be on the program. Earlier in the afternoon, starting at 4 o'clock and continuing for 30 minutes, Ray and Richard, piano and trumpet duo, will be on the air with their regular program and will be followed by Jean Baldwin and Verna Helm, the Junior College Co-Eds, in a 30-minute program of classical and semi-classical music.

The National Harmony Boys, who returned to KREG last night after an absence of several months, will be on the air this evening from 5 until 5:30 p. m., and will be followed by Bud and His Buddies featuring ranch-house ditties for 30 minutes.

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 15.—Harry B. Campbell, prominent boat man of the harbor district, has gone to Iowa to visit his old home and friends in that state. He will be absent a month. He is making the trip by auto.

BELL RINGERS ON PROGRAM AT KREG

In addition to telling late news relative to the Shoe Mileage contest being conducted by the Serene and Fulkerson shoe store, corner of Fourth and Sycamore streets, a unique and entertaining program has been arranged for the radio period being sponsored over KREG by the shoe company.

The Charles English family playing musical glasses, Swiss bells and autoharp will provide the musical part of the entertainment scheduled to start at 6:45 and continue until 7 p. m.

Between numbers the story of the contest and its purpose will be told. The outstanding feature of this Shoe Mileage contest is the fact that there is absolutely nothing to sell in connection with the contest and shoes entered in the mileage competition will be turned over to the Salvation Army for distribution to the needy of Santa Ana at the end of the contest.

JERRY HALL BACK ON AIR TONIGHT

Jerry Hall will be back on the air tonight with another of his popular Firestone service programs. Hall will broadcast from station KREG from 7:30 to 7:45 p. m., singing classical and ballad selections in addition to several of his own compositions.

These programs featuring Hall are winning an increasing amount of applause not only for the quality of selections offered by him, but by the personality of the singer that makes itself felt even over the air and the professional finish that he puts on his programs.

FEATURE NUMBERS BY BING CROSBY

Bing Crosby, one of the most popular singers in America, will be featured over station KREG in a program being sponsored by the Peggy Shop from 7 to 7:30 p. m. tonight.

Several months ago the studio sponsored a Crosby program upon request of radio listeners and scored such a success that another half hour of all Crosby numbers is expected to be one of the most pleasing features of tonight's broadcast.

YOUNG, CANNON MOVED TO NEW PROGRAM SPOT

Shifts in the program for tonight over station KREG have moved Lynnwood Young and Art Cannon up to a new spot with their half hour of song and piano solos. They will go on the air for 30 minutes starting at 8:30 p. m., following the "This 'n' That" all-Negro revue in which Young plays an active part.

In the program featuring Young and Art Cannon, studio pianist, selected ballads and classics will be featured by the singer and Cannon will play several piano selections.

Back in the studio tonight Senor Guillermo Orozco will direct the regular Spanish program from 9 until 10 o'clock. Senor Orozco has obtained several talented artists for tonight's broadcast and will feature several selections new to radio listeners of KREG.

At 10 o'clock Wayne Huffman's Hawaiian quartet will go on the air for 30 minutes of entertainment. The Hawaiians will feature an entirely new series of instrumental selections and will no doubt win more than a little applause from their audience.

KREG NOTES

During the lunch hour tomorrow a 15-minute travel talk will be offered by Bert May, radio announcer and traveler. May will talk on "Fishing in the British Isles."

The Texas Cowboys will be in town again tomorrow with a bunch of maverick tunes they rounded up and will bulldog them over the microphone from 1 until 1:30 p. m.

Don't know whether radio listeners have noticed it or not, but Jessie Morelock, girl hilly billy from Anaheim, is putting over her radio numbers with an added snap and sparkle these days. Gossip in the studio says it is because Jessie has a helper now who carries her guitar to and from work for her and "Somethin' Out to Come of That." He turns the sheet music, too. Don't you, Gunny?

DR. MUSEUS SAYS

Your teeth are so important to good health you cannot afford to let them ruin your happiness. Dr. Museus gives you absolutely painless dentistry in fillings, bridge-work or extractions. Dr. Museus does all of his own work and uses nothing but the best of materials and his prices are about 1/2 of what you would expect to pay for the kind of work that he does.

PLATES $10 $15 $25
Try and Save Your Teeth
But if they are decayed so badly that they cannot be saved—Have Dr. Museus make one of his Expression Plates which will not only save your health, but add greatly to your appearance. This plate is not the so-called simple or double suction plate, but the whole plate is adapted to the tissue in such a manner that it makes the plate stay in a firmer position.

PAST GRANDS OF K. C. LODGE PAID TRIBUTE

Seven of the past Grand Knights of the Santa Ana Knights of Columbus council, and three from the Anaheim council, were the guests at the sixteenth annual meeting held in their honor last night at the Knights of Columbus hall, Fourth and French streets.

Several leaders of the order from Southern California were present. John Shinner, master of the fourth degree from Long Beach, and Joseph Costello, past district deputy from Huntington Park, both addressed the meeting.

The Rev. William Wakenman, chaplain of the local council, was also one of the evening's speakers.

The past Grand Masters of the Santa Ana council present were V. A. Rossiter, who presided, Clyde Ashen, J. Ogden Markel, Carl Heim, James P. Murphy, George Ravenkamp and Thomas Feeley, George F. Nash, Spadra, Calif., sent his regrets for not being able to attend. The delegation of 25 members of the Anaheim council included Charles Lake, Herbert Huleskamp and E. K. Gorman, all past Grand Knights.

A program of vaudeville numbers by Hollywood performers appeared by arrangements made by J. P. Murphy and Henry Hodges, of the program committee. The refreshments were provided by Clyde Ashen, who was in general charge of the affair.

BEACH WOMAN IS GIVEN PROBATION

Mrs. J. Bran, of Seal Beach, who had pleaded guilty to issuing a check with intent to defraud and passing a forged check, was given probation for two years when she appeared today before Superior Judge James L. Allen. She will be required to reimburse those alleged to have lost by her operations, within 60 days.

She was accused of having given I. E. Patterson a check signed with the name Paul Greget, and was alleged to have given J. J. Rochford a fictitious check.

Poultry Breeders Of South Meeting

Poultry breeders from over the seven counties of Southern California were meeting today at the Orange County farm advisor's office for the quarterly discussion of the problems confronting the industry, both locally and regionally.

W. C. Childers, chairman of the Southern California Poultry department, presided. Representatives from all the seven counties in the district were present and submitted reports.

RIVERS FOUND GUILTY AFTER JURY TRIAL

Jimmy Rivers, pugilist, figuratively took one on the chin last night when a jury in Superior Judge H. G. Ames' court reported it had found him guilty of contributing to the delinquency of Matilda Morales, 17, of Atwood. Through his attorney, R. L. Haynes, of Fullerton, Rivers applied for probation and will have a hearing on October 23.

The court set his bond at $5000, which he had not made at noon today.

On the witness stand yesterday the girl told of being given a drink of gin in the Twins cafe by Rivers and later said he pushed her out of his car on West Chapman avenue. Deputy District Attorney Leo Fris handled the prosecution.

Defense witnesses claimed that the girl was not in Rivers' car at all on the night in question. Lon Corona said he saw her at an Anaheim dance before the alleged offense at the cafe, and that she was intoxicated at the time.

RAPID CHANGES IN IDEALS OF DEMOCRACY ARE DISCUSSED IN SCHOOL RADIO BROADCAST

Rapid changes of a nation and its attitude during one generation formed the topic for an address yesterday over radio station KREG by J. W. Means, principal of the Tustin High School. This address was given as a part of the daily program being broadcast by direct wire from the school.

Speaking on the subject "Is Democracy Changing Her Ideas?", Means said in part:

"No nation in the history of the world has ever changed as much in one generation as has the United States in the generation just ending. As late as 1900, two out of every three persons lived on farms—now, two out of every three live in large cities. Then, we ordinarily traveled six or eight miles per hour—now, we get there and back in less than no time—and the trip generally has less than no value.

Orgy of Spending

"Thinking has gone out of style, especially when one has one foot resting on the gas pedal. A generation ago, the simple, sound advice was 'to save for a rainy day.' Now, almost everybody must be certain that 'it ain't gonna rain no more,' for on every hand we hear would-be financiers urging individuals, as well as state and nation, to enter an orgy of reckless spending—as if the spendthrift ever produced anything but misery and want. The reckless spending of two years ago is largely to blame for the unusual length of the present depression.

"Sometimes students ask us why we study history. Why should we care what people did one or two or a dozen centuries ago? Well, for one thing, a study of history will often tell us how and when the pendulum of public opinion is to swing in the opposite direction.

"When this country won its independence about 160 years ago, the common people had a very unfavorable opinion of King George of England. They knew, among other things, that most kings were tyrants—that most of the privileges enjoyed by the common people had been wrested from autocratic kings by groups. Therefore, according to a certain type of logic, in order to protect and increase such privileges, the newly formed American government should put its trust in large legislative bodies. The single executive, be he king or president or governor, should be tolerated only as a necessary evil, whose powers should be more and more curtailed by the large popular legislative bodies.

Then Came Politics

"To carry such logic further—if one legislative body was good, two such bodies would be still better, for if the power could be divided between two legislative bodies, one would often check the other, thus making it doubly hard to pass legislation unfavorable to the common people.

"Popular legislatures became composed of very mediocre men—or worse, log-rolling: 'You vote for my pet pork-barrel measure and

MAYOR LAUDS SANTA ANA AT REALTY MEET

Winners in the Home Town Contest, held in connection with the California Real Estate Association convention now in session in Long Beach, and in which Santa Ana was represented by Mayor John Knox were: Ayers J. du Bois of Hollywood, first; H. L. Gianetti, Pasadena Realty Board, second; Geneva S. Shaffer, San Francisco, third; and Myra Loraine McDowell, Oakland, fourth.

In lauding Santa Ana, Mayor Knox said:

"Representing Santa Ana, the commercial and political capital of Orange county, the principal city of the Saints, on the trail of the Padres linking the Franciscan missions, made up of more than thirty thousands of America's chosen people; founded by its pioneer settlers in 1869; located as we are in the most favorable spot in Southern California, which means the most desirable place in the whole world; being on a number of major arterial highways running in all directions of the compass; on two transcontinental lines of rail; road, also the Pacific Electric interurban, interstate bus lines, one of the principal airway lines and adjacent to all sea-going steam ship facilities; and midway between Los Angeles, that giant city on the North and West and San Diego on the South; surrounded as we are on the North and East by the low but beautiful Santa Ana mountains, back of which are the snow-capped San Bernardino's, as such they are practically the year round; and still back of these are the lofty High Sierras, all of which are overlooking the great Pacific ocean with her long, clean, sandy beaches upon whose vast shores dwell two-thirds of the population of the world; her wonderful Newport Harbor, the pride of all water loving sportsmen of the world, is within five miles of our doors.

"Endowed, as we are, with many of nature's greatest blessings and possibilities for the profit and pleasure of mankind, our lands and homes are supplied with the finest filtered snow water from our mountain ranges, stored in nature's underground basins from which artesian water freely flowed in the past until this desert spot has become one of the most beautiful cities to be found anywhere. Our water supply is to be augmented by the Colorado river through Hoover Dam, in quantities that will supply us for generations to come.

"Courage and co-operation has been the watchword. On the other hand agriculture and industry are keeping pace with the growing population and equally important as this is the cultural life and structure of the rising generation. Education is in no wise overlooked or underestimated, all of which is included in our curriculum from the teaching of the kindergarten of the young and tender aged children to and including the two first years of college, graduates of this junior college being recognized by all first class schools of learning in America."

WORLD FRIENDSHIP SCHOOL WILL OPEN

The school of world friendship to be conducted at the First Baptist church for six consecutive Sunday nights will open on Sunday of this week at 6 p. m. with study classes, Mrs. John Tessman, who spent most of last summer in Mexico, will be the speaker and

Girls You Can Win a Beautiful Doll

With Complete Wardrobe

FREE!

Description

This beautiful doll is a wonder, with sleeping eyes, dressed elegantly and is twelve inches tall. A complete wardrobe is supplied, including a real knit sweater, shoes, socklets, a white embroidered dress trimmed with lace, and hood to match, rompers with bonnet to match, a wool blanket, baby's rattle, rubber bib with kitten decorations, and sheet rubber pants, all in an ingeniously devised boudoir style cabinet with two compartments in the cover and three removable compartments. The center compartment containing the doll is easily converted into a cradle by inserting the end pieces furnished. Included in the outfit also is a pillow and a ruffled cradle spread. Another remarkable feature is that the contents of the cabinet may be removed and the cabinet used as a little lady's "overnight case." The case is fitted with snap catches and handle.

Health Camp Items

BY GERALD ARAIR

A fine benefit concert will be given for the health camp on the evening of Thursday, October 29, in the Santa Ana high school auditorium. Our good friends, Madame Manuela Budrow-Rafferty, Spanish prima donna; Clarence E. Gustlin, well known pianist; Edward Burns, who plays the cello so well; and Miss Ruta Armstrong who is an accompanist of note, will give a wonderful program. All the proceeds will be clear because everything will be donated.

This help will make us very happy as the tuberculosis association does not have enough money to keep us and some of the children had to go home. We miss two of our pals, whose father had to take them out before they were well enough. There are only 24 children here now and there is room for 40.

Dr. F. O. Kaps says we cannot go out to the concert to thank all our friends for the help as we might catch cold but the alumni of the health camp will be there and everybody can see what fine boys or girls can do to play the "health game." You will see also some picture of us in our lovely camp and "Mother Meagher" will tell about us. Then we hope you will all come to see us and visit our school, which is run just like any of the public schools in Orange county.

Others Tell News
The senior groups of the "Sunshine School" is giving a Halloween party October 30. We have been painting dried sycamore leaves in autumn colors. There is to be a border of leaves around the room on the blackboard. The stage will be fixed like a field of corn stalks. To make the field complete, we need some pumpkins to put around the corn shocks. We would certainly appreciate it if any of our outside friends would send up some pumpkins to help in our decorations. We forgot to raise any this year. Besides, the leaves, black colored cats, witches and bats will hang from the ceiling.

—By Philip Baker, 7th grade.
T. T. Crasher comes up every Sunday morning to conduct our Bible school. We surely do appreciate it. He brings two girls, named Agnes and Bonnie with him. Bonnie takes the little folks class, Agnes takes the next and Mr. Crasher the oldest.

—By Eldon Eastman.
Miss Rosemarie Wilson brought up some pineapple guavas from her home in San Diego for the children of the health camp. Their Spanish name is fajaola. They are about the size and shape of a plum. They are green in color and very sweet. She has many kinds of fruits at her home and she promises to bring a different kind next time.

—By Charles Bowles, 6th grade.
The following ladies were kind enough to put up a lot of fruit for the health camp children and were welcomed with joy when they brought it to us this week. It certainly helps with our balanced meals to have this beautiful fruit made by our kind friends: Mrs. J. F. Burke, Mrs. A. W. Holmes, Mrs. Ella Parker, Mrs. Mary Galloway, Mrs. Minnie Field, Mrs. J. Neiman, Mrs. H. O. Phillips of Santa Ana, and Mrs. Honor Easton of Anaheim.

We have another new member in our school. Miss Wilson's sister, Opal, is starting to school out here. She comes out with Miss Wilson every morning from Orange. She is in the 8th grade. Her other sister, Lillian, visited last Friday. She played the piano for us and we surely did enjoy it. Some night, Miss Wilson is coming out and play the piano for us to have a sing. We are all very fond of music.

—By Geraldine Walthall, 6th grade.
Saturday, we went to Irvine park. We watched Miss Leah Reinschmidt play tennis with the older children. The boys played with a football. The girls found pretty autumn leaves to press.

—By the Primary Grades.
We are enjoying avocados from our own trees in our salads now. This is the first year that the trees have had any fruit on them. We hope some day to have our own vegetables and fruits. The chickens sent out to us by C. C. Rittenhouse of Buena Park are beginning to lay eggs and when we have chicken dinner, Oh, boy!

We saw some of the pictures taken last week. These will be used during the coming Seal Sale campaign. On Wednesday, when "Mother Meagher" came out to clinic, she brought 1000 sheets of Christmas seals for us to fold. Jesslyn Peterson is in charge of the girls and Philip Baker is in charge of the boys. We are going to add a little surprise in our folded seals.

PASADENA MAN GETS DAMAGES FROM 'MYSTIC'

Special From Anaheim
John R. Marshall, of Pasadena, was awarded damages totaling $399.99 against Kilmer Clayton, otherwise known throughout Southern California as "Mystic Clayton" in a suit to collect personal and car damages as a result of an automobile accident which occurred at Palm and Vermont streets the afternoon of June 19, by Judge Charles Kuehl in the Anaheim justice court yesterday afternoon.

The case continued throughout the morning and was concluded at 2:30 p.m. Testimony offered at the trial revealed that Doris Clayton, 19-year-old daughter of "Mystic Clayton," who resides in La Habra, was driving the car that collided with the Marshall car in June.

Judge Kuehl gave his decision after John Martell, attorney for Marshall, and Raymond Thompson of Fullerton, attorney for Miss Wilbur, had cross examined the numerous witnesses.

Clayton had filed a cross complaint against Marshall asking for $145 for damages to the car; $50 for general damages and $100 for the loss of the use of the car while it was being repaired. The action was dismissed simultaneously with awarding of the judgment to Marshall.

Chief of Police James S. Bouldin testified that Miss Wilbur had told him that she had been traveling 50 miles an hour at the time of the wreck but Miss Wilbur denied this on the witness stand as did several others, who claimed they had heard the conversation and had not heard her say so. Other witnesses testified that Marshall had been driving at an excessive speed.

Both cars were overturned in the crash but no one was injured to any serious extent.

ECONOMICS GROUP OF COUNTY ELECTS

Special from Anaheim

Mrs. Esther Long of the Fullerton high school will head the organization of Orange County Economics association for the coming year. She was elected president at the monthly meeting held last night in the Highway Tea Gardens. Miss Ruth Moore of the Anaheim high school will act as secretary-treasurer while Mrs. Taylor of Fullerton will serve as vice-president.

Following the election of officers and the dinner, Miss Hazel Dawson, a member of Santa Ana Junior college faculty, gave a brief talk on the recent N. E. A. convention held in Los Angeles this summer. Miss Dawson told of the various exhibits of home work on display. A general discussion was held concerning the courses of study and the work each member is taking for the year.

The next meeting, it was decided, will be held sometime the first part of November at Santa Ana, in the Home Cafe at 8 o'clock. Members will also attend a meeting at the Santa Ana Polytechnic high school in the afternoon. Regular monthly meetings are held the first Thursday of each month at 6:30 p. m.

D. A. R. REGENT REVEALS PLAN FOR COUNCIL

Special from Anaheim

Mrs. Ernest Borchert, regent of Anaheim Mother Colony chapter D. A. R., today announced again the Southern Council will be honored in having its vice-regent, Mrs. Frederick F. Gundrum, assist Mrs. Frank Phelps Tom, state regent, open the year's activities at the Elks Temple, 607 South Park Avenue, Los Angeles, October 20. Other guests of honor from the north include Mrs. Claude Lorey, state librarian, and Mrs. Joseph Taylor Young, state chairman of the student loan committee.

All members of the Anaheim chapter are invited to attend the council at 11 a. m. and a reciprocity luncheon at 1 o'clock which will be open to the public. Reservations should be placed with Mrs. H. L. Wood not later than October 17.

At the council Mrs. Tom will give a review of her recent northern chapter visit. Mrs. Lyman B. Stookey presents La Fiesta report. State chairmen representing genealogical research, girl home makers, program and Sons and Daughters of the Republic will tell of their work.

The luncheon program includes greetings from Mrs. Charles Crall, herself a Daughter and the president of Los Angeles Elks, and Mrs. Myra Nye, club editor of the Los Angeles Times and the regent of Covina chapter, D. A. R.

A soloist from the Ukrainian Russian Civic Center, which is sponsored by the D. A. R., is to sing.

GASOLINE WAR STILL RAGING IN THIS CITY

Special from Anaheim

The gasoline war in Anaheim is still raging although the battle is carried on silently and without wartime materials—unless huge signs announcing low prices can be considered as such.

Many service stations in the southern section of the city have signs posted proclaiming they have gasoline for sale at from eight gallons for a dollar up. One station just outside of the city limits on South Los Angeles street had a sign posted today advertising gasoline at 8 gallons for 95 cents.

Most of the major stations have been obliged to install pumps and sell the so-called "bootleg" gasoline in order to compete with the prices of other stations. One station is selling one of the major brands of gasoline for 14 cents a gallon while the standard price is now 18 cents.

Oil is being offered for sale at several stations in the southern part of the city at some of the lowest prices ever recorded here, the price being two quarts of western oil for 25 cents.

While it has been indicated by dispatches on leased wire news services that prices of gasoline were going up, no raise has yet been noted in Anaheim. Efforts of the Standard Oil company to force all gasoline companies to pay the three cent state gasoline tax have been taken as indicative of a move to raise prices. Alleged evasion of the tax is said to be one of the main reasons for the ability of gasoline and oil companies to undersell major oil companies.

Mayor Miller is a member of the original committee which assembled in order to work out a method of gathering surplus agricultural food products in the county and distribute them to the needy in the northern section of the county. The plan was first suggested by John Golaspay of Placentia and he was later assisted by Mayor Miller, who was named chairman of the original committee, Mrs. Lowry Alry of Placentia, V. C. Porter of Fullerton and Lucy Craig of Brea.

High scores were awarded to Mrs. Herbert Oike, first prize, and Mrs. Francis White of Orange, second prize.

BUILDERS HAVE PLAN EXHIBIT: URGE BUILDING

House planning may be studied by the prospective builder by visiting the collection of photographs and photostatic designs that have been placed on display at the Orange County Builders' Exchange, in the Exchange building, Second and Main streets.

The exhibit contains 23 photographs and 42 photostats, valued at $300, which have been sent here by the Community Arts Association, of Santa Barbara. Santa Barbara is noted for its beautiful homes, according to Frederic Sanford, secretary of the county exchange, who made arrangements for the display.

Throughout the rest of the month, the exhibit will be open for inspection.

Sanford said that contractors, owners and prospective builders will be able to secure plans in which they are especially interested.

Members of the Exchange have stressed the fact that now is the ideal time to build because of low prices for materials and the fact that construction activities will provide work for those who would otherwise have none.

Young Players Get Opportunity In Amateur Play

A group of younger players of the community are to be given opportunity to enact roles in the forthcoming "Community Players" production, "Broken Dishes," which is to be given October 28, 30 and 31 in the Ebell clubhouse. This was learned today when Marion Helm Williams, director of the play, announced that the cast now is completely organized.

Among the young people taking part are Miss Marion Parsons, Miss Pauline Parks and Edwin Beisel. The first two take the parts of "Mabel" and "Elaine," while Beisel has been cast as "Sam Green."

Frank Lansdown, who has appeared in other productions, will have one of the leading roles, as "Cyrus." Estelle Card Beeman is to play one of the feminine leads, as "Jennie," the mother.

Other members of the cast are Jean Worthington Miller, as Myra; Robert Speed, as Chester Armstrong; Peter Ross, as Quinn, and Elton DuPre as the Rev. Dr. Stump. The group holds rehearsals several nights a week, and soon will begin rehearsing each night, it has been announced.

OLD ISSUE OF COLONIAL NEWSPAPER CARRIES STORY OF WASHINGTON'S FUNERAL

By Virginia Fritcher

The spirit of '76 had been recognized as a permanent influence a comparatively short time—24 years, in fact—when Samuel Freer and Son published No. 88 of the second volume of their New York newspaper, "Ulster County Gazette." To them, it was, no doubt, of little more importance than No. 87 or 89 of the same volume, excepting that it bore the story of George Washington's funeral. As usual, there were four pages, each bearing four columns about 18 picas wide; there was much congressional news; there were foreign dispatches, and a goodly amount of advertising.

But to N. W. King, of Midway City, the little paper, published Saturday, January 4, 1880, at Kingston, Ulster county, New York, is a cherished possession. In its every line he finds the embodiment of the patriotism and courage of his forefathers; he finds a compelling sentiment drawing him back to a time when "Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness" were seeking their first means of expression.

For years, the little paper, which is a family heirloom, has been prized by Mr. and Mrs. King and members of their family as well. In its special shelter—an old wall of the mellowed paper remains until it is brought to light for some special purpose. Perhaps some friend wants a glimpse into the past, or perhaps the sons and daughter of the home—Douglas, Carlyle, Morris or Frances, need it for reference.

Recalls Washington's Death
Its account of George Washington's funeral, printed in columns bordered in black, is invaluable. Given equal prominence on its pages are letters from the United States president, John Adams, and from the Senate, expressing their grief at the death of a "most esteemed, beloved and admired citizen."

Like the news which it contains, the paper has traveled far. From the very first, it was in possession of the King family, being taken from New York to Tennessee when N. W. King's great grandfather made such a journey. It was

Court Notes

Lennah Yost has brought suit in superior court seeking a divorce from Clarence B. Yost on grounds of desertion. They were married on September 27, 1928, and separated on September 29, 1929, according to the complaint.

Complaining that Dale A. Trapp insisted on taking another girl along when he and his wife went on outings, Ruth M. Trapp has filed suit for divorce in superior court. Following a separation, she again agreed to live with Trapp, she said, but declared that immediately afterward he told her he wanted her to return to him only to make her suffer. Mrs. Trapp asked custody of minor children. They were married in 1923 and separated on August 29, 1931, the complaint said.

R. G. Bookless has brought suit against L. G. Wyant and D. E. Beatty asking $398.10 damages as a result of an automobile accident on the Fullerton-Brea road on August 16 in which the Bookless car was damaged. According to the complaint Wyant was driving the other car and drove onto the left side of the road, causing the collision.

Seeking to quiet title to property in tract No. 27, Boulevard addition, Sadie Irwin has brought suit against R. R. St. John and others.

Charging Alfred H. Graves with failure to provide, Imogene Graves has brought suit for divorce in superior court. They were married in 1915 and separated in 1930, the complaint stated.

Seeking to foreclose a mortgage on Santa Ana property securing a $4000 promissory note, Pearl Kendall Hesse has brought suit against Orville F. Fowler and others.

Victor M. Walker has brought suit for divorce from Ethel V. Walker, charging cruelty. They were married on December 11, 1929 and separated on October 4, 1931, the complaint said.

The will of the late Roy W. Purpus, who died at Laguna Beach last month, has been filed for probate by Ada E. Purpus, widow, who was named in the will as executrix. The estate is valued at not more than $1000. Mrs. Purpus and a daughter, Jean Blair Purpus, were listed as heirs.

The estate left by the late Annie E. Potter, who died on September 29 at Fullerton, is valued at not more than $16,000 in the petition for admitting her will to probate, filed by Willie B. Potter, of Fullerton, executor, a son of the deceased. He and Charlie O. Potter, a son, and Mary A. Watner, a daughter, both of Fullerton, were listed as heirs.

Meta C. Diebold has filed a complaint in superior court to determine adverse claims to real property in the Rogers tract, naming as defendants Edward J. Kieffer and Dora Kieffer.

F. W. Brattmiller, of Orange, has petitioned the superior court for letters of administration in the estate of the late C. F. Brattmiller, who died on September 10 at Orange. The estate is valued at not more than $6000. F. W. Brattmiller and Charles Brattmiller, also of Orange, are listed as heirs.

Allie M. Kiser, who died at Santa Ana on September 15, left an estate valued at not more than $10,000, according to a petition for probate of her will, filed by Hugh N. Kiser, widower, who was named in the will as executor. In addition to the petitioner the heirs listed who reside in Orange county are Herman C. Kiser and Mary A. Kiser, son and daughter of the deceased, residing in this city.

The will of the late Solomon Riley Lentz, who died on August 19, leaving an estate valued at not more than $6000, has been filed in superior court by Fred V. Lentz, who asked to be given will named as executor the National bank of Mattoon, at Mattoon, Illinois, but the petition stated that this bank is not qualified to act in this capacity in California. The heirs reside in the middle west.

John Pieper and Calvin Lambert have brought suit against H. V. Carse, seeking judgment for $351 alleged to be due for orange trees supplied to the defendants.

COUNTY LEGION MEETING SET NOVEMBER 4

Justice Emmerson J. Marks, former superior judge here and one of the best known American Legion men in the county, will be the principal speaker at an open meeting being sponsored by the Orange County Council of the American Legion on November 6.

The meeting will be held in the auditorium of the Santa Ana High school and Judge Marks will speak on "Legion Activities in National Affairs."

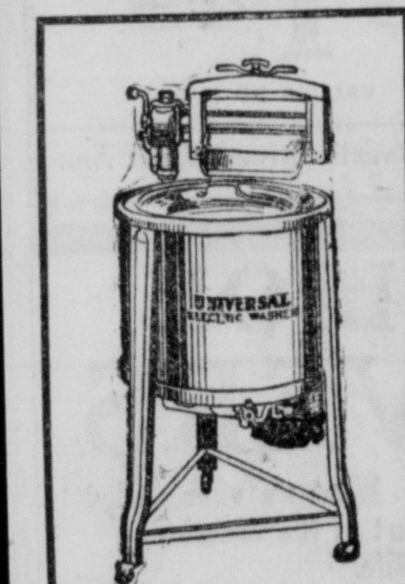

Due to the limelight in which the American Legion has suddenly been thrust in national questions, together with the publicity it has received, county council leaders are of the opinion that an address at this time, just prior to the big Armistice Day celebration to be held in Santa Ana, will be one that will appeal to the public in many ways.

Donald Jones, county council commander, is enthusiastic in his belief that the meeting will be one of the most popular the Legion has staged in several years. Judge Marks is particularly well known throughout the county and as a Legion man is declared the ideal speaker for the occasion. He was former commander of the Fullerton Legion post and also former commander of the county council.

ASKS $15,000 FOR LOSS OF EYESIGHT

Thomas Badua today had brought suit for $15,000 damages against Adriano Lapina, Magno Gall and George Alexander, basing his complaint on an automobile accident in which the defendant's car was involved and in which he was injured. The accident took place on May 28 at the intersection of Orange thorpe road and Dowling street, Placentia.

Gall, who was driving Lapina's car, and Alexander both were negligent, and a collision followed, the complaint said. Badua suffered loss of the sight of his right eye as a result of the crash, he said.

HEALING MIRACLES DISCUSSED BY FORD

"While it is true that God is able to perform miracles of healing and that He does so frequently in our own time, He never does for a man what that man can just as well do for himself." Evangelist John E. Ford told his audience at the tabernacle last night.

"When God created man He endowed Him with reasoning powers and He expects him to use them. If a man asks God for protection during the day then he accidentally puts his hand on a hot stove the reflex nerves cause the muscles of the arm to contract and remove the hand before he can think. That is his God's method of protecting him and there is no need of special healing. But if the man says, 'I did not need to remove my hand, I asked God to protect me and He will,' so I shall place it on the stove again, he will get burnt."

"The most effective remedies known today are the simplest and most common. These are fresh air, sunlight, pure water, good food, exercise, plenty of sleep, and trust in God. Others become necessary as adjuncts at times, but these used intelligently would prevent the vast majority of disease."

INJURED IN CRASH
WINTERSBURG, Oct. 16.—Mrs. E. Kanawyer, who was severely injured the first of the week in an automobile accident, underwent an operation Wednesday on the leg which was broken. Mrs. Kanawyer had been caring for Mrs. J. T. Worthing since she suffered a recent stroke and was being taken to her home by Mr. Worthing when the Worthing car and another machine collided near Sheltzer corner. Mrs. Kanawyer was thrown against the front of the car. Her nose was broken and other injuries were sustained causing her removal to the Santa Ana Valley hospital, where she is a patient.

YOUNG PEOPLE DO WELL WITH DRAMATIC PLAY

Young people of the First M. E. church, with practically no stage experience but with an intense appreciation of drama and dramatic action, and ably directed, last night gave a creditable performance of Channing Pollock's great play "The Fool" at the high school auditorium. They were directed by Willis Deupree Billips, scholarship student of the School of Speech, University of Southern California, who, in addition to directing the play, handled the difficult role of Pearl Maginnis who appears in the third act of the production and carries considerable of the drama of that act.

Robert Deupree, playing the role of Daniel Gilchrist, idealist and dreamer, who gives up a career as rector of a fashionable church to devote his life to the poor, rose to heights seldom attained in amateur performances. His father, playing the minor but important role of Umanist, the Poie, gave the finished performance of a professional and recalled the fact to many of the older people in the audience that it was just 25 years ago this month that he played here, at the old opera house in the title role of the famous stage play of that day, "The Slave," then on tour from New York City.

Audrey Leeson, as Clara Jewett, the girl who sacrificed happiness for wealth and prestige, presented a convincing performance. Jeanette Hickman in the role of the pathetic little cripple, Mary Margaret, whose faith works a miracle was particularly appealing. Mitchell Hookins, handled the difficult part of Jerry Goodkind, the profligate son of a wealthy man in an adequate and convincing manner.

Motion acts a musical program arranged by Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh presented the following well-known soloists: Mrs. Irma Rutter, Jerry Hall and H. L. Woods.

IMPROVEMENTS IN BAY BEFORE CLUB

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 16.—H. L. Sherman, J. P. Greeley, L. W. Wallace, L. W. Briggs and R. L. Hodgkinson were named by President Conrad Richter of the Newport Beach Service club as a committee on harbor improvements to report at the meeting of the club next week.

"Harbor Improvements" was the subject discussed at the Service club meeting at noon Wednesday. The movement launched by the club has for its object the bringing of more yachts and yachmen to Newport bay. The discussion of harbor matters yesterday was informal, almost every member of the club having something to say and all stressed the advantage of harbor improvements and the desirability of bringing more yachts to the bay.

Ed I. Moore announced that he understood the Newport Harbor Service club would be invited to become a Rotary club. He stated that while the question was not up for discussion at this time, he felt that the club members should be giving the subject thought.

ONE WAY TO DO IT

It was a choice between cutting expenses or leaving University of Idaho, so Clement, left, and Maurice March, brothers, of Lowman, Ida., built this house for $43, loaded it on a trailer, towed it 500 miles to college, parked it on the campus, and set up housekeeping. Both are good cooks, so board is low and rent is nil. It's something new in "fraternity" houses.

BREA CHAMBER SEEKS TO KEEP P. E. BUSINESS

BREA, Oct. 16.—More than 30 representative citizens attended the luncheon meeting Wednesday of the Brea Chamber of Commerce, the first such meeting since last June.

Ways and means of collecting delinquent and current dues of the organization were discussed when President LeGro revealed the fact that the treasury is low and some bills are unpaid. To this end C. O. Harvey and Dr. J. J. Holland were appointed to work with the membership committee, which is headed by Mrs. E. A. Hurst with G. C. Folkemer as her assistant, in devising ways and means of collection of dues and a general revision of the membership roll.

Thoughtful citizens of Brea realize that the office of the chamber of commerce and its secretary, E. M. McDonald, have been outstanding in helpfulness in the matter of welfare work and the maintenance of a free employment bureau for the community during these months of financial distress, according to opinions expressed by W. D. Shaffer, Ed Peterkin, John Cox, H. A. MacClatchie, Walker Davis, F. J. Schweitzer, J. D. Wakeman, Mrs. Hurst, C. O. Harvey and M. P. Gilliland. An outstanding accomplishment of the chamber, through W. A. Culp, was cited in the recent fire and water survey according to the city of Brea whereby insurance rates were decreased and property owners already saved more than $1000.

Discussion was held on the proposed abandonment of the Brea station by the Pacific Electric railway. Ben Sutton, Brea agent, stated that the company had first planned to employ him one half day at both the Brea and the Yorba Linda stations. Yorba Linda, however, offered such vigorous objections to this plan that the company had then suggested the closing of the Brea station. It was brought out that the tonnage of shipments from Yorba Linda station was much greater than

LAWYERS HEAR BAR GOVERNOR AT FULLERTON

A campaign of education for benefit of the general public on matters pertaining to legal procedure was recommended by Roland Swaffield, of Long Beach, one of the governors of the California State Bar association, in his address before members of the Orange County Bar association at McFarland's cafe in Fullerton last night.

The speaker was introduced by President Albert Launer who paid a tribute to the work done by Mr. Swaffield as one of the governors of the State Bar association as well as to the other governors, all of whom had given much of their time to improve conditions in this state for the legal profession.

"Public Relations," was the subject of Swaffield's talk. He discussed at considerable length the inroads that had been made in recent years in the work which was really legal work. He spoke of the banks and trust companies in making a spirited effort to secure trusts, and said that these efforts had been rewarded by success.

He said that many unauthorized persons were taking from the legal work, the work which rightly belonged to the lawyers, and he explained the steps that were now being taken by the California Bar association to acquaint the public to a greater extent than ever tried before, with legal procedure.

Raymond Thompson and W. Maxwell Burke participated in a discussion as to group advertising following the address.

President Albert Launer gave an account of his recent trip to the State Bar association in Del Monte as the official representative of the Orange County Bar association. He said that the meeting was highly interesting and subjects of major importance were discussed. He reported that the number of lawyers in California had increased from 6000 in 1920 to 12,000 in 1930, more lawyers than in any other state in the Union.

William Wade of Fullerton and Reeves Aylmore of Santa Ana, were announced as new members of the Orange County Bar association. Ray Overacker, Huntington Beach attorney, was introduced as a new member.

Horace Head gave a brief report of the law library in the court house provided for the use of the attorneys in this county.

An announcement was made by Stanley Reinhaus that there would be a special countywide Legion

INTERESTED GROUP HEARS BULB TALK

"The garden is the setting of the home. It is part of the picture which reflects the spirit which the home embodies. The garden should be an ensemble, not a collection of specimens. It should be planned and designed as carefully as the furnishings within the house—not a piece here and a piece there, but a studied arrangement to suit the situation and to make a picture that will delight all beholders."

With this thesis, C. R. Hannah, of Anaheim, proceeded to enlighten his audience at the Y. M. C. A. last night on how to select and train bulbs for quantity and quality of blossoms. He was heard by a group of interested gardeners, who kept him until a late hour answering their questions.

The third in the series of garden talks will be given next Thursday, by Grant Henderson, who is to discuss shrubbery at that time.

meeting in the Santa Ana high school auditorium November 6 at which time Justice Emerson J. Marks would talk on the relation of American Legion to national affairs. The public was invited to attend this meeting, he said.

LAST TWO DAYS FOR VOTING IN BABY CONTEST

Tomorrow is the final day for voting in the Register-Neely-Fox theaters baby contest, which has been staged here for the past six weeks. Eleven babies, winners in weekly qualifying contests, are now competing for the grand prize, the winner of which will be determined when the Fox West Coast theater closes its doors tomorrow night.

The grand prize is a deposit of $50 in the Commercial National bank here, to be left on deposit until the child is of college age, when, through interest, it will have increased to $250 or more.

The 10 other contestants who do not win will be given handsome presents from the baby department of the Neely Dry Goods company on West Fourth street.

Much interest has been manifested in the contest and more than 50 babies were entered. Motion pictures of the 11 winners were taken and are now being shown on the screen of the Fox West Coast theater.

The ballot box is located in the foyer of the theater and all unvoted ballots should be cast either today or tomorrow.

Babies entered in the finals are: John Louis Holtselau, Lee Wendler Haven, Donald Theodore Lundhorn, Joceline Caroline Hansen, George Ronald Harris, Lorraine Kavathas, Rita Burman, Norma Lee Herzlig, Velma Lois Sanford, Warren Ward Nelson, Donald W. Brown.

New Loan Concern Opened Yesterday

Equipped to handle individual automobile loans, refinancing of contracts and dealers' paper the Coast Finance company has opened a new branch office in Santa Ana with R. L. Peterson in charge. According to Peterson who has been with the company for the past four years, the organization has had a life of eight years and is equipped with unlimited funds.

Peterson said that his company has established a new service whereby a telephone call will bring the cashier of the company to the patron's home or office. The company, he said, is loaning money under the new act which became effective August 14 and places automobile loan concerns under state regulations requiring that they be licensed and bonded by the state.

Hostesses Plan Bridge Party as Birthday Surprise

A lovely birthday party was given Tuesday when Mesdames B. H. Bauman, Roy V. Ivins and George Merriam entertained a group of friends in honor of Mrs. Daisy McGee, of this city. The Merriam home in Orange was attractively decorated with orchids and pink dahlias for the occasion. The honored guest had been invited by Mrs. Merriam to take part in an informal one-table bridge affair, and was surprised upon her arrival, to find a number of other friends there to greet her.

When tallies were checked at the conclusion of the card contest, prizes for first and second high scores were awarded to Mrs. Roy V. Ivins and Mrs. O. E. Carr. Mrs. Pearl Higgins received the consolation award. Many birthday gifts were presented to Mrs. McGee.

Concluding the happy afternoon, the hostesses served ice cream and coffee with a birthday cake, iced in white and topped with tiny orchid candles. This had been baked by Mrs. Merriam. Vases of orchids and centerpieces of the tables were the menu was served.

Those present, other than Mesdames Bauman, Ivins and Merriam, and Mrs. McGee, were Mesdames O. K. Carr, Joe Steele, J. H. Rinehart, Dan Thompson, Leiland Eubank, Santa Ana, Mrs. Pearl Higgins, Orange; Mrs. C. A. Sittler and Mrs. Frank Mauerhan, of Anaheim.

Friends Take Part in Birthday Celebration

The birthday anniversary of Mrs. Ida Clark Tripp, 1227 French street, which occurred Tuesday, was made a pleasant affair by her many friends, who presented her with a variety of cards and bouquets of flowers. Mrs. Tripp has been confined to her home with illness for the past several weeks, but is reported as improving nicely.

Economics Section Has First Meeting of The Season

Holding their first meeting of the season, members of the Fifth Household Economics section of Eboli society shared a 12:30 o'clock luncheon this week in the clubhouse lounge. Hostesses were Mrs. George L. Chapman, Mrs. Ellis C. Diehl, Mrs. Herbert Krahling and Mrs. Carl Klatt.

A Halloween motif was observed in all appointments, including clever placecards and autumn chrysanthemums in tints of yellow, used in decking the tables. Following the luncheon, it was announced that the section will hold a benefit card party in the home of the leader, Mrs. Chapman, 2032 North Main street Thursday afternoon, October 22 at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Carl Klatt presided over the short business session, after which bridge was enjoyed. Mrs. Hugh Plumb and Mrs. Tarver Montgomery were awarded prizes.

Those present were Mesdames Severin Schulte, Tarver Montgomery, Frank Preston, F. Mead, E. Allen, Charles Bowman, Paul Bailey, M. Borgmeyer, E. H. Guthrie, E. C. Kirk, Hugh Plumb, Edward Walker, J. W. Rice, Howard Stone, J. B. Watkins, Miss Clara Richards, and the hostess quartette, Mesdames George L. Chapman, Ellis C. Diehl, Herbert Krahling, and Carl Klatt.

PARENT-TEACHERS

The first meeting of the Willard P.-T. A. was held the past week. J. F. Burke spoke on "Education and World Peace." The eighth grade glee club, under the direction of Miss Esther Jean Davis, sang several numbers, and Charlotte Mock gave a humorous reading.

Mrs. Grace Lund, dean of girls, introduced the Willard faculty. Following the business meeting, a social hour was enjoyed in the arcade, where refreshments were served, and teachers and parents became better acquainted.

Benefit Party Women of the Edison school P.-T. A. gave a successful benefit party this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Musick, 2216 Maple street. Proceeds from the affair will go to the association's general fund.

Five-hundred was the game of the evening. With the adding of scores it was learned that Mr. Baird and Mr. Musick held high honors and Sidney Messenger, low. Mrs. Richard Metz received a special award.

Late in the evening, a delectable refreshment menu was served, in keeping with a pretty Halloween motif.

Various interesting announcements were made this week at the meeting of the Lowell school P.-T. A. held in the kindergarten room of the school, with Mrs. Dale Griggs presiding.

Miss Tompkins told of the "Verse Speaking Choir" which one of the adult education classes offers Tuesday evenings at Lathrop school. Miss Mildred Mead, principal of the school, announced that many students of the school have no money with which to buy lunches and other necessities. The P.-T. A. voted to assist in contributions to a fund for such children.

Mrs. Beall's work in remodeling clothing and distributing it to needy families was explained, and the president urged Lowell mothers to cooperate in the matter by donating usable clothing and assisting in the remodeling room whenever possible.

Mrs. Gowdy gave a report concerning material which may be used in the summer playground work. She urged that mothers save scraps of cloth, oldcloths, spoons, jars, milk bottle caps and numerous other things which are often thrown away. These will be utilized by playgrounds next summer, it was announced.

Sixth grade students sang "The Florian Song," with Miss Lazarus accompanying at the piano. Mrs. Mary B. Robertson told of the budget plan used by the district, state and national P.-T. A's.

At the close of the business session Miss Mead introduced the teachers, each of whom wore a dainty orchid and gold shoulder corsage. The banquet had been arranged by Mrs. Griggs. During the social hour, tea and wafers were served by second grade mothers including Mrs. A. H. Jones, Mrs. F. A. Hunt and Mrs. C. O. Kauffman.

1932 CONFERENCE PROVES OF INTEREST TO GROUP OF LADIES

Indicative of the general interest being shown in international affairs, were main features of the dinner meeting following the Y. W. C. A. candle-lighting service held last evening in the First Methodist church. At this time, channels of thought seemed to be directed to that important international forthcoming event,—the disarmament conference to be held in 1932 at Geneva, Switzerland.

The subject first was introduced by Mrs. John Tessmann, who presented petitions to be signed by women favoring reduction and limitation of arms. These petitions are similar to those which have been distributed in Holland and England, and have been signed by over 2,000,000 women, Mrs. Tessmann explained.

She continued to say that contrary to popular belief, such documents are not ignored. They receive their just consideration, as they will when they are presented at the conference, she said.

Miss Nancy Elder, general secretary of the Y. W. C. A., also touched upon the subject of the disarmament conference in telling of her recent experiences in Europe.

Service Is Impressive Preceding the dinner meeting, the candle lighting service took place in the chapel of the church, with tall candles in candelabra providing the lighting for much of the ceremony. Mrs. George Warner read the service.

Musical numbers at this time were given by Miss Virginia Anderson, vocalist, and Miss Ruth Armstrong, pianist. Their selections included "O Rest in the Lord" and "Sheep and Lambs." In conclusion, all present lighted small candles which they had been given. Members of the Wyandotte Maagden club of the Y. W. assisted at this time.

Dinner Served The well-prepared dinner served in the basement dining room was in charge of members of the Dorcas Society of the M. E. church. Miss Anderson and Miss Armstrong again entertained with numbers, presenting "Florian Song" and "Passing By."

Mrs. C. F. Smith, president of the Y. W. C. A., presided over the meeting. Announcements were given by Mrs. Earl Morris, membership chairman, who with her committee had charge of general arrangements; by Miss Mabel McFadden, finance chairman and Mrs. Perry P. Schrock, chairman of education, who with her committee had full charge of the candle lighting service and the program for the evening.

Mrs. Morris asked the cooperation of members in making known to girls and women of the city that the Y. W. C. A. rooms are open to the use of all, whether or not they are members. Miss McFadden told of the association's need of more funds.

Mrs. Schrock announced the "open house" meeting to be held all day Friday, October 30 at the Y. W. C. A., when all in the county who are interested will attend. The conference will begin at 9:30 a. m. with a study of international affairs as one of its objectives; luncheon will be served at noon, and the meeting will be resumed in the afternoon.

Speaker Introduced Miss Lucille Robinson, new Girl Reserve secretary of the Y. W. C. A., was introduced by Mrs. Smith, after which Miss Elder was presented as the speaker of the evening. She told of her gleanings this summer when she visited Y. W. C. A. headquarters in various European countries. She found that the histories of the foreign Y. W. C. A. links up closely with that of the Y. W. C. A. of this country; that all associations have problems similar to those in the United States, and that finance is their main problem.

Girls in foreign associations are more serious than girls in this country, Miss Elder continued, and their interest in international relations is paramount.

Miss Elder then told of her visit to the world's headquarters of the Y. W. C. A. in Switzerland. This association cooperates with six other organizations founded on similar objectives, the speaker said, and all are joining in making a study of the disarmament problem.

Evening Wedding Takes Place in Presence Of Many Guests

Before an improvised fern-covered arch, with pink roses arranged in lattice effect on either side, the wedding vows of Miss Eva Mae Brownmiller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brownmiller, Santa Ana, and Jasper Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Smith, of Garden Grove, were solemnized Saturday evening, October 10. The ceremony was read at 8 o'clock in the Church of the Four Square Gospel, with the Rev. C. E. Jaynes officiating. Over 200 guests were present.

At the appointed hour, the strains of "Love's Old Sweet Song" were heard, with Miss Lettie Harper at the piano. This was followed by a brief message "The First Garden," given by the Rev. Mrs. Jaynes. J. A. Smith then sang "Thank God For a Garden," and "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Miss Harper, who then played a piano solo "Candle Light" by Cadman.

Attired in a lovely chiffon dress of white, and wearing a filmy veil, the bride entered the room on the arm of her father. She carried a shower bouquet of pink roses and white sweetpeas, and was attended by Mrs. Owen Smith, matron of honor. She wore a pale green chiffon dress, and carried a shower bouquet of pink sweet peas. Miss Alice Brownmiller, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was gowned in pink chiffon and also carried pink sweet peas. Owen Smith, brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man, while Lowell Jaynes also attended the groom.

The bridal party was preceded by the small Misses Dorothy Shuler and Faith Jenkins, who attended in the fluffiest of dresses, scattered rose petals in the path of the bride. Small Donald Lee Shuler acted as ring bearer. They made their way to the arch to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding march, played by a violin and piano duo by Miss Lettie Harper and Donald Crow. Miss Harper wore a pale yellow chiffon dress, with a corsage of white gardenias. Ushers were Roy Jenkins and Otis Shuler.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith are at the present time established in the home of the brides parents, West Fifth street and Garden Grove road.

Fall Gymnasium Class Has Opening Meeting Nineteen women were present at the opening of the fall gymnasium class for women, held Monday evening in the Stanley gymnasium at Tustin Union High school. A larger attendance is desired, according to the director, Miss Stella Youum, and an invitation is extended to all wishing to join, to attend the next meeting which will be held in the gymnasium Monday if good attendance is shown. Sports and exercises chiefly will comprise the instruction.

Those present at the opening meeting in addition to the coach, Miss Stella Youum were Mesdames Pearl Ballard, Leonard L. Leonard, L. Allen, Virginia Bigelow, Violet Felchner, Myrtle Dunstan, Guy Bolvard, H. A. Riner, F. M. Griss, Ted Cox, A. Carl, C. A. Samuelson, and the Misses Hazel Durbin, Isabel Carroll, Frances Curl, Mary Dunstan, Alice Pannell, Margaret Cox.

Plans for a luncheon to be held November 4 were made yesterday afternoon when 22 members of St. Joseph's altar society met with Mrs. Clyde Ashen, 1502 French street. Mrs. Ashen is chairman of the group making arrangements for the affair.

Business of the afternoon included the appointing of groups who will be in charge of the various luncheon features.

Church Organizations Plan Two Surprise Showers

Mrs. Otto Fischer of Panorama Heights was honored guest at two surprise affairs given recently, the latest of which took place when members of the Ladies Aid and the Missionary society of St. Peter Lutheran church entertained. About 60 members and friends were present.

The surprise affair followed their regular meeting held in the church parlors. "Our Missions in India" was the topic for the day. Mrs. Gerhard of Kansas City, Mo., who is visiting here, gave a reading, "Widow Brown's Missionary Box," followed by a vocal duet by Mrs. Bert De Col and Mrs. W. F. Sorenson.

During the short business meeting, plans were made for a bazaar to be held October 31.

With the conclusion of the meeting, the stage curtains were raised to reveal a large rosebud concealing little Gloria Schultz dressed as a rose. She read a little poem in Mrs. Fischer's honor, and extended a welcome to the Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Meyers. The Rev. Mr. Meyers is the new pastor of the church.

Mrs. Fischer then was presented with many gifts, and refreshments of pie a la mode, ice cream and coffee were served.

Club Entertains Members of the Sewing club of St. Peter Lutheran church were hosts at another surprise event honoring Mrs. Fischer, giving it in her home. Gifts presented the honoree were arranged in a large heart, topped with a stork. Refreshments served included ice cream in tiny cradles and candies and nuts in clever booties.

Gay Color Scheme Used For Club Luncheon Realistic witches, black cats and skeletons, indicative of the Halloween season, yesterday lent a colorful aspect to the pleasant afternoon of bridge with which Mrs. Donald Hillyard entertained members of a bridge club in her home on West Myrtle street.

Tables were gay in orange and black appointments, and places were laid for Mesdames Charles Adams, Warren Hillyard, Joseph Gajek, Charles Trawick, Claude Sleeper, Calvin Powers, John Backus, Eugene Robinson, Edwin McFadden, C. Edward Scales, William Penn and the hostess.

Scoring in the afternoon's game were Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Backus and Mrs. Adams.

Members of the Leaders' section of the Eboli club met informally Wednesday in the lounge of the clubhouse, discussing section problems.

Mrs. John Clarkson gave some vital suggestions on parliamentary law, leadership and club etiquette.

Following the meeting, the same group met for a period in correct speaking, with Mrs. Clarkson as critic. An interesting talk on "The Lindberghs" was given by Mrs. S. B. Marshall.

One-Table Club Has Bridge Luncheon

Meeting at the Hi-Way Tea Garden Tuesday, members of a one table bridge club shared a luncheon with Mrs. J. D. Sanborn of 416 Vance street, as hostess. Fall flowers were used in decorations.

Following the group repaired to the home of Mrs. M. R. Kellogg for an afternoon of cards. High score was held by Mrs. Sanborn.

Those present, other than the hostess, were Mr. Edward W. Cochems, Mrs. Robert E. Smith and Mrs. M. R. Kellogg.

Members of the Job's Daughters entertained with a bridge party Tuesday evening in the lounge of the Masonic temple, with Miss Harriet Morris, queen, having charge of the general arrangements. She was assisted by her various committee members.

The MIXING BOWL by ANN MEREDITH

Waffle-Baked Nut Cookies

It was only a step for some right woman to go from ice-box cookies baked in the oven, "as wanted," to the same cookies baked on a waffle iron, as wanted, and that usually right at the table. You know, things we cook at the table have a peculiar appeal to the palate. Ordinarily, the family turns up its nose if only cookies are served as dessert, but take the same cookie, bake it at the table, and they'll almost founder eating them.

Here is the recipe the demonstrator so kindly gave me:

WAFFLE-BAKED NUT COOKIES

2 cups brown sugar.
1 cup butter.
2 eggs, well beaten.
3 cups sifted pastry flour.
1 teaspoon soda.
1 teaspoon cream of tartar.

1 cup finely chopped walnuts.
Cream butter and brown sugar thoroughly, add the beaten eggs, then the flour sifted with soda and cream of tartar. Nuts are added last. Bake in four separate cakes, dropping a small spoonful of dough on each grid, or add an extra teaspoonful, smooth it into place and bake as one cake. Cut into eighths and cool slightly.

I tried one of these cookies, just as it came hot off the waffle iron, and it was so good! Butter won't always be so reasonably priced that a cupful can be used with nonchalant hand, but good bacon fat goes beautifully in these cakes, so does vegetable shortening if salt is added. I think some chopped raisins would do wonders for this recipe, don't you? Baking powder may be used in place of soda and cream of tartar.

Tomorrow, I'm going to tell you about a soffee discovery I made today.

TODAY'S RECIPE

CINNAMON ROLLS

1 large potato, diced and cooked in.
1 cup water.
1 tablespoon sugar.
2 teaspoons salt.
1 yeast cake.
1/4 cup tepid water.
Flour to make stiff batter.
CINNAMON ROLL MIXTURE
1/2 cup melted lard.
3 eggs, well beaten.
1 cup sugar.
Flour to make stiff batter.
Cinnamon, butter and brown sugar.

Anything worth doing at all is worth doing well. This roll mixture is one of those things, as you'll agree presently.

Cook the potato and rub through a sieve with its cooking water. Cool it, add sugar, salt, dissolved yeast, and flour to make a stiff batter. Do this in the early morning, and let it rise until bubbly-light. Add the melted lard (or vegetable shortening) the beaten eggs, sugar and flour to make a dough stiff enough to handle. Let it rise again, then take what is needed to make a panful of rolls, mould lightly, roll out, spread with brown sugar, cinnamon and soft butter. Roll up, cut off into pieces, arrange closely together in a buttered pan, let rise until very light, then bake in a quick oven.

The remaining dough must be put into a buttered bowl, covered to exclude air and kept in the refrigerator until you wish to use it again. Ice-box doughs will stay lively a full week if the air is excluded.

Each cinnamon roll has energy calories totaling a trifle over 150.

HOOT GIBSON IN NEW FILM AT WALKER'S

Hoot Gibson, starring in "The Hard Hombre," takes his work seriously enough to do a lot of research in preparing to play his parts.

For his appearance at Walker's State theater beginning today, Hoot studied the life, personality and mannerisms of John Wesley Hardin, most famous of the old-time badmen of the Southwest. Hardin killed thirty-six victims before he finally came to his end at the hands of an ambitious youth who put a six-gun to his head and pulled the trigger for no better reason than that he wanted to be known as "the man who killed John Wesley Hardin."

After learning how Hardin talked, looked and appeared, Hoot made his characterization twice as desperate—because "The Hard Hombre" is for laughing purposes only.

CHURCH GROUP MEETS

WESTMINSTER, Oct. 16.—The subjects, "India" and "Alaska," were taken up in interesting manner Wednesday afternoon at the missionary meeting held at the local Presbyterian church with the wife of the pastor of the Presbyterian church, Mrs. C. G. Carter. Mrs. Carter and Mrs. Reuben Edwards were lesson leaders. Mrs. Chester Hemstreet, Mrs. O. B. Byram and Miss Marjorie Byram gave interesting reports on the Presbyterian which they attended Tuesday at Anaheim First Presbyterian church.

HOOT GIBSON in "THE HARD HOMBRE"

Chapter No. 2 of Thrilling New Serial. RED GRANGE in "THE GALLOPING GHOST"

REAL HIT SEEN AT BROADWAY IN 'PALMY DAYS'

Eddie Cantor in "Palmy Days," now showing at the Fox Broadway theater reminds you of "Happy Days," but it is a better picture, with more mirth, more real happiness than "Happy Days."

Comedy throughout, with a touch of musical comedy here and there, in the form of good singing and dancing, the picture has had no equal in Santa Ana in the past several months.

To the patrons of the theater who like light shows, pictures at which they can smile and even laugh out loud, "Palmy Days" is typically the show.

The film has no meaning, there is no moral, there is hardly a plot, but the antics of Cantor and the elongated Charlotte Greenwood will keep you smiling throughout.

Because a number of the scenes were shot in a big bakery, background for the plot, the bakery being a Webber bakery, through a tie up with the theaters and the Webber Baking company, eight eight-inch three layer, and six six-inch three layer cakes will be handed out to persons in the audience tonight. Aside from these, the bakery will give away free doughnuts throughout the audience.

Seldom pictures come to Santa Ana that are as enjoyable as "Palmy Days." Pictures like this, more of them, would be a real help in times of depression.

ESTATE FOR TOMBS

COLUSA, Cal.—(UP)—The estate of the late Bascom B. Furry was appraised at $500. The heirs petitioned the Superior Court here to have the entire amount used in the erection of a fittingly inscribed tombstone for Furry's grave.

Free Prizes To Winners In Pet Parade

Hey, Kidd!

Ball-Bearing Type Bars Lessen Noise and minimize "typewriter fatigue"

They're telling us all the time—people who use a typewriter a lot—that they can write on an L. C. Smith all day long without "typewriter fatigue."

If a typewriter makes a sharp noise when the type bar hits the platen, and that noise smacks you on the ear drum several thousand times a day, it will make you irritable and nervous. An L. C. Smith doesn't do that!

The ball-bearing type bars are operated with no effort at all for trained fingers. The type bars on an L. C. Smith never "stick" and thus add to the day's irritation. For this same reason, you won't find letters with the corners pounded off on an L. C. Smith.

The least possible noise—the greatest ease in operation—the L. C. Smith is the outstanding typewriter today.

Late News From Orange County Communities

New Officers Elected By Placentia Farm Center

TAX ASSESSOR GIVES ADDRESS BEFORE GROUP

PLACENTIA, Oct. 16.—James Sleeper, Orange county tax assessor, was principal speaker at the Placentia Farm center meeting last night, when officers were elected and impromptu talks on various subjects were heard.

On report of the nominating committee, L. T. Alldredge, manager of the Placentia house of the Placentia Orange Growers' association, was elected president of the center; Gilbert Kraemer was elected vice president, E. J. Menard was elected secretary and W. F. Coulter was elected director.

"The greatest trouble your officials have with the taxpayer, is his reluctance to acquaint himself with the governmental affairs of his county or district," Sleeper said.

"Your officials are often censured for the acts, when as a matter of fact, the taxpayer is to blame, for the most of the tax burden is caused by the taxpayer demanding electric lights, sewers, library districts, fire districts, roads and streets all paved, grammar and high school buildings more costly than the neighboring districts, have health nurses, inspectors for everything, planning commissions and other commissions. These departments we did not have a few years ago, and all cost the taxpayer money."

"I want to call your attention to the fact that the real property is having to carry an extra load at the present time and will continue to do so for some time to come, on account of the depletion of our oil fields, the low prices of our stock, merchandise, stocks and bonds, and in fact, all other personal property. The decline in this class of property will show to a much greater extent in 1932 than it did in 1931."

He said he believed the centralization of the wealth of the country is doing more to injure the purchasing power of the people than anything else, and quoted figures on large incomes, showing how people cannot spend them, and how economists will have to cure this congestion. He advised against the high cost of government, and asked the people to study figures.

Sleeper presented charts, showing tax trends in the past 16 years. The general tax rate in 1910 was $120; valuation was $27,000,000 and $564,498 were collected. The peak rate was reached in 1915 when $1,500,000 were collected on property valued at $34,900,000, at a rate of $1.55. The lowest rate was one dollar in 1919, when $2,200,000 were collected on property assessed at $37,000,000.

In 1930, the rate was $1.45; valuation was $83,000,000, and the amount raised was $7,500,000. In 1931, property values were $164,000,000; the rate $1.45 and the amount raised was $6,700,000. Over that period of 16 years.

Newport Buys 5 Acres Of Water Land

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 16.—The city has purchased five additional acres of water land. The city now owns 132 acres of water land along the Santa Ana river. The city does not contemplate immediate development of the new water holdings, but purchased the land as a protection measure in case salt water should encroach and make it necessary for the city to search for a new water source. The new lands are convenient to Costa Mesa and should Costa Mesa ever become a portion of the harbor district, the city could be quickly supplied with a water system from the new lands. Newport has expended a total of $80,000 on its water lands.

$11,000,000 went to roads and $44,000,000 to schools.

In 1916, Placentia Union Grammar school required $13,000 to operate the schools. In 1931, the district asked for $133,000 in the budget. In 1916, the Fullerton Union High school asked for $72,000; in 1931, $421,000 for operating expenses.

According to Sleeper, the taxpayer's dollar is spent as follows: 49 per cent for schools; 20 per cent for roads; eight per cent for general fund; five per cent for hospital; four per cent for salary of officials; nine per cent for interest and sinking fund and one per cent for library.

Ralph McFadden reported on the directors' meeting.

J. A. Smiley, representative of the state farm bureau, told of the equalization fee, an object of the National Farm bureau, describing the aim as threefold, to handle surplus, to find new markets and to establish bi-product plants for all produce. Speaking on the subject was Harold Wahlberg, farm advisor; H. H. Hale, McFadden, this class of property will show to a much greater extent in 1932 than it did in 1931."

He said he believed the centralization of the wealth of the country is doing more to injure the purchasing power of the people than anything else, and quoted figures on large incomes, showing how people cannot spend them, and how economists will have to cure this congestion. He advised against the high cost of government, and asked the people to study figures.

Bean Warehouse Adds Employees

SMELTZER, Oct. 16.—With lima beans by the truck loads, still rolling into the storehouse of the Smeltzer Lima Bean association, more help is being secured in the cleaning department, where 40 are now employed.

The threshing is all completed for this immediate community. The Hell and Price thresher has finished following a busy season in which 14,000 sacks were threshed by the outfit. An average of 17 sacks per acre was found here.

NEED FOOD AND CLOTHING FOR SUPPLY DEPOT

LA HABRA, Oct. 16.—The community Welfare league of La Habra has the supply depot at 119 East Central avenue in operation and some cases have already been cared for. Clothing and food supplies are needed, especially clothing. There is some clothing on hand for girls and small children but much more will be needed.

George M. Eaby has pledged $5 per month toward a grocery supply and it is thought that there will be other pledges along this line as well as food stuffs donated. One man who said he could not give money brought in a dozen cans of milk and two pairs of shoes.

The committee in charge has arranged a calendar showing the days when the various organizations will be in charge of the depot.

Mrs. J. L. Morris, depot manager, and Mrs. Charles Goodchild, assistant, plan to be on hand much of the time to oversee the work. This work started with the week September 28 to October 5 and was in charge of the P. T. A., with Mrs. Goodchild, Mrs. Morris and Mrs. D. H. Tunstall as representatives. The second week, October 5, 7, 9, was in charge of the Woman's club with Mrs. J. A. Scofield in charge. This week the American Legion auxiliary is in charge with Mrs. Ruth Lennon as representative. The balance of the calendar so far is as follows:

October 10, 21, 23, W. R. C., Mrs. Robert H. Carey; October 26, 28, 30, O. E. S., Mrs. Edna Leutwiler; November 2, 4, 6, Kiwanis club, Mrs. H. A. Randall; November 9, 11, 13, Firemen, Mrs. R. E. Launer; November 16, 18, 20, Masons, Mrs. Edna Leutwiler; November 23, 25, 27, American Legion, Mrs. E. M. Jackson; November 30, December 2, 4, W. C. T. U., Mrs. Sheridan Phillips; December 7, 9, 11, Four Square Gospel, Mrs. Emma Curtis; December 14, 16, 18, Methodist church, Mrs. H. R. Rich; December 21, 23, 25, Nazarene church, Mrs. M. A. Blackmon; December 28, 30, January 1, Christian church, Mrs. J. M. Cantwell, Mrs. H. J. Livingston.

This calendar will be subject to change but it is planned to hold the depot open Monday, Wednesday and Friday each week from 8:30 to 11:30 a. m.

La Habra Class Planning Party

LA HABRA, Oct. 16.—Members of the Martha class of the Baptist church were entertained Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Benjamin S. Roberts, with Mrs. W. H. Scott as co-hostess. It was decided not to have a meeting of the class in November as the regular meeting falls on Armistice day. A Christmas party was planned for the December meeting at the home of Mrs. Paul M. Thornton. Games and visiting were enjoyed during the afternoon after which the hostesses served pumpkin pie. The Halloween motif was carried out in the decorations. Present were Mesdames J. H. Bills, H. A. Laullin, Martha Patterson, J. W. Barber, Paul M. Thornton, W. P. Mills, R. C. Pridis, Emma Swenney, W. J. Hipolite, C. H. Bills, of Maywood and R. Robinson, and E. Bland.

SENIOR QUEEN ESTHERS NAME NEW OFFICERS

WINTERSBURG, Oct. 16.—The two groups of Queen Esther girls of Wintersburg held interesting meetings this week, each group being assisted by the superintendent, Mrs. W. A. Matson.

The Junior Queen Esthers held their meeting at the social hall with Mildred Ruoff as hostess and the girls were entertained with stereopticon pictures of Japan by the Rev. Mr. Matson.

At the business session it was voted to arrange for a candy booth at the coming Ladies' Aid bazaar, November 20.

Cake was served by the hostess. Those present were Mildred Ruoff, Opal DeBuck, Dorothy Breeding, Minnie Sizer, Lily Sizer, Janell Betty, Ena Preston, Ena Preston will be the hostess at the next meeting of the Junior Queen Esthers.

Election of officers was held at the evening meeting of the Senior Queen Esther group. This was made necessary as each member elected to office at the regular election is now away at college. Miss Isabelle Russell is the new president, taking the place of Miss Velma Wentzel; Miss Phyllis Bradbury, vice president in place of Miss Marian Clemens; Miss Juanita Rogers, secretary, taking the place of Miss Thelma Pratt, and Miss Zexie Nichols, pianist.

A "white elephant" booth will be held at the coming bazaar, and candy will be sold. Miss Phyllis Bradbury and Miss Paula Nelson were hostesses and Miss Bonnelly Fox and Miss Dona Stinson will act as hostesses at the November meeting. Miss Marjorie Cowling had charge of the program of the evening which took up the study book "God and the Senses."

The girls present included the Misses Thelma Bailey, Ruth and Dona Stinson, Nell McIntosh, Harriette Hill, Mary Miller, Zexie Nichols, Maxine and Phyllis Bradbury, Ruby Lewis, Paula Nelson, Juanita and Vada Rogers, Olive Van Meter Alice Breeding, Janet McIntosh, Geraldine Gardner, Avonel Gary, Jeanne Ruoff, Marguerite Peters Isabelle Russell and Bonnelly Fox.

CARD PARTY MONDAY

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 16.—A postponement of the regular meeting of the Los Amigos club, local women's card club, to Monday evening has been made. The card party will be held at the home of Mrs. C. A. Whitte.

INSTALLATION OF AUXILIARY POST TONIGHT

SAN CLEMENTE, Oct. 16.—Public installation of officers of San Clemente post No. 331, American Legion, and the auxiliary will be held at the Social club this evening at 8 o'clock. Don Jones of Fullerton, new commander of the county council will have charge of the installation services. Legionnaires invite all San Clemente citizens to attend the installation services. Refreshments will be served after the ceremonies.

Legion officers to be installed follow: Earl Moore, commander; H. W. Harper, first vice commander; Roland Peterson, second vice commander; V. D. Bailey, adjutant; Ruhl Sites, sergeant-at-arms; C. W. Wells, chaplain and Tom Guderman, historian.

Auxiliary officers: Mrs. James Bennet, president; Mrs. Dee Wolfe, first vice president; Mrs. Nellie Starr, second vice president; Mrs. C. W. Wells, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. J. Hopkins, secretary; Mrs.

Horseshoes In Demand At San Clemente

SAN CLEMENTE, Oct. 16.—Everyone here is throwing horseshoes. In fact, some of the store keepers can hardly find time to wait on customers.

It is planned to stage a tourney soon and then to select a team to compete with south coast stars for Southern California honors. Councilman Earl Von Bonhorst is the leader in the horseshoe movement.

The problem here is to find horseshoes.

Roland Peterson, treasurer; Mrs. Tom Guderman, musician; Mrs. Lester, historian.

LEGION DANCE OCT. 29

SAN CLEMENTE, Oct. 16.—The Legion post of the Spanish Village will stage a Halloween dance at the Social club October 29. C. W. Wells, Tom Guderman and Claude Sanborn of Huntington Beach have charge of the dance.

Invitations have been sent to south coast posts and auxiliaries to attend the dance here.

VIOLIN TOPIC AT SESSION OF BEACH EBEL

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 16.—"The Growth of the Violin" was the subject of an interesting talk given by Mrs. John Cloyes, Santa Ana, before the Ebel club Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Cloyes gave historical data of the early violins and their makers up to the present time and the talk was illustrated with many lovely violin numbers, played by Ollie Matthews, accompanied at the piano by Iona Tunison Peek, Santa Ana.

Mrs. C. M. Deakins, president presided during the short business session.

Luncheon was served at the Newport Harbor Yacht club. 12:30 p. m. Hostesses were Mrs. Susan Rutherford, Mrs. Andre Wilson and Mrs. J. P. Scholten. The club will sponsor a card party next Thursday afternoon at the clubhouse at 2 o'clock.

Tea and wafers were served following the program.

They call it
"Cand H MENU" Sugar now
instead of just "Cand H"

The next time you ask for your favorite, "Berry" Sugar—in the original C and H refinery package, of course—you'll notice that the name MENU now appears with the familiar initials C and H.

Since C and H Sugar—"Berry", Brown, Desert, Confectioners Powdered, Cubelets, and the new Crystal Tablets—in fact all the C and H Sugars offer such wonderful opportunities for varying the menu—the name MENU just naturally seemed to belong with C and H—just seemed to go right with it.

And speaking of buying C and H MENU Sugar in the original refinery package—have you seen the new MENU "Berry" packages? There's a smart looking new cloth bag for C and H MENU "Berry" Granulated! Women who like to buy large quantities of C and H MENU "Berry" at one time will welcome this attractive new bag. And there's a smart new C and H MENU "Berry" sugar box with a clever pouring device! Women who like to buy boxed sugar will welcome this stunning new MENU "Berry" package which pours so conveniently—which opens and closes so easily—which protects the sugar until the entire package of it is used up. And, here's another wonderful thing about the new C and H MENU "Berry" package—it's wrapped in waxed paper to prevent caking. Yes, actually! You'll be interested to know, too, that C and H MENU "Berry" Sugar is domestic grown and refined. Quick-dissolving "Berry" Granulated—pure cane, every grain—made by the world's largest sugar refinery!

THE WEEKLY PANTRY SHELF

EL MODENA

EL MODENA, Oct. 16.—Mrs. George Stoner and Mrs. Julia Forrey were among those to attend the all day meeting of the Woman's Missionary society in Anaheim.

Miss Ida McNair, kindergarten teacher in the El Modena school, was hostess to the teachers of the Roosevelt building recently. The setting for this lovely affair was the home of Mrs. Mary Moody on South Esplanade street. The choicest of fall blossoms were arranged about the rooms and also formed a charming center piece for the table where the dinner was served.

Places were marked for the following: Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Parks, Miss Dorris Phillips, Mrs. Mary Nichols, Mrs. Eunice Metcher, Miss Martha Smiley, Mrs. Alpha Salverson, Miss Estelle Burch, Miss Emma Williamson, Miss Raymond, Miss Cecile Nichols, Miss Wilson, and the hostess Miss McNair.

The Mexican school has reopened after being closed for the past four weeks for the children to help harvest the walnut crop. One hundred and fifty-six children are enrolled at the present time.

The Rev. and Mrs. Herbert Gans, of Coronado, were callers in the R. C. Adams home Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. G. M. Robertson, of Wintersburg, was a visitor in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Moore Sunday.

Recent dinner guests in the W. A. Settle home included Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Settle, of Los Angeles, and the Rev. M. L. Pearson.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Adams and daughter, Miss Eva, accompanied by Miss Henrietta Settle, motored to Glendale Sunday and visited Mrs. Adams' sister, Mrs. Minnie Searle.

Mrs. Clara Jones, Mrs. W. A. Settle and Mrs. Henrietta Reep attended the meeting of the Missionary society of the Presbyterian church in Anaheim Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hackfield, of Los Angeles, were El Modena visitors Wednesday.

Mrs. Ollie Miller, of Garden Grove, was a guest of Mrs. A. O. Hodson Wednesday.

L. W. Evans, Donald Smiley, Wade Flippen, R. C. Adams and Douglas Marshburn were among the members of the John T. Carpenter Water company board to attend the district meeting at Costa Mesa Wednesday.

Mrs. E. Dozier of Garden Grove, was a guest of Mrs. L. W. Evans Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Haley, of Santa Ana, were all day guests Sunday in the home of Mrs. Haley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Townsend.

Mrs. Henry Campbell, Mrs. Marion Flippen and Mrs. William Sutherland were among those to attend the meeting of the U. S. A. club held in the home of Miss Ann Williams, North Center street, Orange.

Frances Irwin, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fay Irwin, is able to attend school after an absence of several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hurst and Herman Rhodes, of Pasadena, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Koenig Sunday.

Mrs. Koenig is an aunt of Mrs. Hurst and Herman Rhodes.

Miss Elizabeth Skiles attended the Y. W. C. A. conference held in Long Beach Saturday.

The many friends in this locality of the Guy Field family will be pleased to learn there is a slight improvement in the condition of Weldon Field, who has been very ill in the Compton sanitarium for the past few weeks.

CYPRESS

CYPRESS, Oct. 15.—Mrs. V. K. Chandler entertained with a delightful 1 o'clock luncheon at her home on Hanson road recently in honor of her sister, Mrs. Charles Dancy, who is leaving Cypress to make her home with her son in Pomona.

The orchid and white color scheme was carried out in the table appointments and decorations. The centerpiece was orchid and white cosmos with tall orchid tapers on each side. Baskets of cosmos were arranged throughout the home.

The afternoon was spent with needlework and conversation.

Guests besides Mrs. Charles Dancy were Mrs. John Hester, of Santa Ana; Mrs. G. Ellingworth, of Hanson; Mrs. Hugh LaRue, Mrs. M. M. Carpenter, Mrs. John Preston, Mrs. Steve Luther, Mrs. C. P. Bunyard, and Mrs. W. J. Rennie.

Mrs. W. E. Rennie of South Pasadena was a guest Friday in the home of Mrs. W. J. Rennie.

Sam Giesler, of Talbert, spent Sunday afternoon in the home of his daughter, Mrs. M. E. Penhall.

Mr. and Mrs. H. La Rue visited Sunday at San Pedro and with Mrs. Ed Beatty at North Wilmington.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Miller, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Neil Moore, of Walnut Park, left Sunday on a five weeks hunting trip through Arizona.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Booth and grandson, Raymond Booth, left Monday for different parts of Kansas, where they will visit relatives. They expect to be gone three weeks. This is the first vacation Mr. Booth has had in six years.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harper and family, of Talbert, were entertained at dinner Sunday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Penhall.

Mrs. L. T. Rowley, of Glendale.

PANTRY SHELF

"Just one cake convinced me!"

says MRS. GEO. F. PENNEBAKER
5000 Echo St., Los Angeles

This new blended shortening creams so quickly—makes such feathery light cakes every time

"I was skeptical. How could my cakes be any lighter—any more fine-grained—any easier to make!
I thought I had them down to a science. But I gave Parfay a chance anyway. And with just one cake I was completely won over!"

Thousands of other California women have put Parfay to the test in just this way. Some with pastry —some with biscuits—some with fried things. Most of them are just a little baffled. Parfay's best point is hard to decide. But there's one thing they've all discovered. That this new shortening is ideal!

We want you to test Parfay without mercy. Cream it instantly for a fluffy cake. Find out if its flaky pastry deserves the fame it's won. Be strict with your frying tests. We know you'll find that Parfay does everything just perfectly!

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAI COCHRAN — PICTURES BY KNICK

The warship was a pretty sight. Said Clowry, "I'll bet it can fight. Gee! See how easily it moves. I wish we were aboard. What fun to be a soldier boy. Why, it would make me jump with joy." "Aw, you would merely like the ride," another Tiny roared.

They watched until the boat passed by. Then Copy heaved a tired sigh. "Let's rest a little while," said he. "The hill climb fagged me out. Unless my guess is very wrong, some other boys will come along." The Travel Man replied, "Okay! Let's wait. You're right, no doubt."

And so they flopped down on the hill. It wasn't very long until they heard a toot and Copy said, "Here comes a real nice treat! This is a different sort of ship, out on a fine sight-seeing trip. It's fun to watch it slip right by. I have a grandstand seat."

The Travel Man then said, "Well, we have other things that we must see. I'll take you to the locks. They'll be the strangest thing you've spied. If they are closed we'll be lucky, 'cause then we'll have a chance to see machinery in motion that will make them open wide."

They reached the locks and, what a sight! Each happy little Tiny was too surprised to say a thing. The Travel Man just smiled and said, "Come on, boys, we will float down the canal upon a boat. I'm sure that that will be a ride to tickle any child."

The boat they boarded moved real slow and shortly Clowry said, "I know what's going to happen when we reach the locks. They'll open wide!" Another said, "Of course they will, and my, but won't that be a thrill. Why, if they didn't open, we would have to stay inside."

ARRANGE FUNERAL OF MRS. F. D. HALM

LA HABRA, Oct. 16.—Funeral services for Mrs. Frank D. Halm, wife of Municipal Judge F. D. Halm, of La Habra, who passed away very suddenly at her home in Lindauer court Wednesday night, will be held Monday at 2 p. m. from the White-Emerison parlors in Whittier.

While in La Habra where she had made her home for the past seven years, Mrs. Halm was very active in the work of the Christian Science church and was one of the founders of the church here. She was born in Independence, Mo., and was 61 years of age at the time of her passing. She is survived by her husband, two children, Mrs. Helen Ramage, of Chicago, and Frank E. Halm, of La Habra Heights, and one sister, Mrs. Charles Golden, of Kansas. Mrs. Halm spent several months this summer with her daughter in Chicago and also visited her sister in Kansas.

BREA DINNER GUESTS

BREA, Oct. 15.—Dinner guests at the L. J. Mathews home Wednesday were Mrs. Mathews' brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Payan, of Santa Ana, her father, M. D. Payan, of Olive, a nephew, Elroy Russell, and Mrs. Elizabeth Elzey, also of Olive. The dinner honored Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Payan, whose marriage was an event in Santa Ana about two weeks ago.

Legal Notice

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE
No. 5937
Whereas, Geo. A. Edmiston and Mary E. Edmiston, husband and wife, by Deed of Trust dated October 2nd, 1930, and recorded October 25th, 1930, in Book 131 of Official Records of Orange County, California, at Page 138 et seq., did grant and convey that certain real property hereinafter described, to Reliance Title Company, a corporation, and Trustee, to secure, among other things, a promissory note dated October 2nd, 1930, in the aggregate sum of One Thousand Dollars, with interest thereon at the rate of eight per cent per annum, from date thereof, principal and interest due in monthly installments of $15.00 each, on the 1st day of each and every month, beginning on the 1st day of January, 1931, and continuing as therein provided, in favor of R. C. Huber and Cora B. Huber, husband and wife, as joint tenants, also to secure any other sums of money which might become due and payable under the terms of said Deed of Trust, and to secure the payment of the principal sum of $2,000.00, plus interest as in said note provided, advanced trustee's fees, costs and expenses of this trust; and

Whereas, default was made in the payments due upon said note and obligation, in that the following items were not paid when due, and still remain due and unpaid, to-wit: Principal and interest payment due January 1st, 1931, and all subsequent principal and interest payments falling due and remaining unpaid, interest due from October 2nd, 1930, and there is now due and unpaid on said note the principal sum of $1,000.00, plus interest as therein provided, trustee's fees, costs and expenses of this trust; and

Whereas, said Deed of Trust provides that after three months shall have elapsed following such recordation of said notice, the Trustee, without demand, shall sell said property as therein provided; and

Now therefore, Notice is hereby given that by virtue of the authority vested under said Deed of Trust, said Reliance Title Company, as Trustee, will sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash the gold coin of the United States, on Monday, the 19th day of October, 1931, at the hour of 11:00 o'clock A. M., at the South front entrance to the County Court House, in the City of Santa Ana, County of Orange, State of California, the interest conveyed by said Deed of Trust by said Deed of Trust in and to the property therein described, situated in the City of Santa Ana, County of Orange, State of California, as follows: Lot Eight (8) in Block "C" of Tract No. 410, as per map thereof recorded in Book 19, at page 24 of Miscellaneous Maps, Records of said Orange County, or so much thereof as shall be necessary to pay all sums due and unpaid or to become due, secured by said Deed of Trust, subject, however, to any and all prior liens and encumbrances.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE
No. 5937
Whereas, R. L. McGee and Virginia McGee, husband and wife, by Deed of Trust dated December 1st, 1930, and recorded December 19th, 1930, in Book 139 of Official Records of Orange County, California, at page 261 et seq., did grant and convey that certain real property hereinafter described to Reliance Title Company, a corporation, as Trustee, to secure, among other things, a promissory note dated December 1, 1930, in the aggregate sum of Twenty-one hundred dollars with interest thereon at the rate of eight per cent per annum, from date thereof, principal and interest payable in installments as in said note provided, in favor of Charles C. Briscoe and Joy L. Briscoe, husband and wife, as joint tenants; also to secure any other sums of money which might become due and payable under the terms of said Deed of Trust; that said note was subsequently assigned to Smith & Sons Reserve Corporation, Ltd., the present owner and holder thereof; and

Whereas, default was made in the payments due upon said note and obligation, in that the following items were not paid when due, and still remain due and unpaid, to-wit: $400.00 of the $500.00 installment due January 1st, 1931, and all installments subsequently falling due and remaining unpaid, interest due on said note has advanced the sum of $7.45 to protect its interest under said Deed of Trust and there is now due and unpaid on said note the principal sum of $2,000.00, plus interest as in said note provided, advanced trustee's fees, costs and expenses of this trust; and

Whereas, in accordance with the provisions of said note and Deed of Trust, and by reason of such default, the owner and holder of said note and obligations exercised the option given therein and did declare all sums secured thereby to be immediately due and payable, and did execute and deliver to the Trustee a written declaration of default and demand for sale, and thereafter, in accordance with the provisions of Section 2924 of the Civil Code, did record a notice of default and breach in the conditions of said Deed of Trust, which said notice was recorded July 7th, 1931, in Book 437 of the Official Records of Orange County, California, at Page 474 et seq., and

WHEREAS, said Deed of Trust provides that after three months shall have elapsed following such recordation of said notice, the Trustee, without demand, shall sell said property as therein provided; and

Now, THEREFORE, Notice is hereby given that by virtue of the authority vested under said Deed of Trust, said Reliance Title Company, as Trustee, will sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash in said coin of the United States, on Monday, the 2nd day of November, 1931, at the hour of 11 o'clock A. M., at the South front entrance to the County Court House, in the City of Santa Ana, County of Orange, State of California, the interest conveyed by said Deed of Trust in and to the property therein described, situated in the City of Santa Ana, County of Orange, State of California, as follows: Lot Twelve (12) in Tract No. 532, "Eden Tract," as per map thereof recorded in Book 19, at page 5 of Miscellaneous Maps, Records of said Orange County, or so much thereof as shall be necessary to pay all sums due and unpaid or to become due, secured by said Deed of Trust, subject, however, to any and all prior liens and encumbrances.

The TRUTH ABOUT BRAN

With so many opinions about bran, it is well to know the facts. Here are the results of laboratory tests with bran:

Bran is a good source of Vitamin B. This vitamin helps tone up the intestines and keep them regular.

Bran also supplies "bulk" which further aids intestinal action. The "bulk" in bran is much like the "bulk" you eat in lettuce or other leafy vegetables.

This "bulk" absorbs moisture—like a soft sponge—and gently cleanses the intestines of wastes. Bran also brings the body needed iron for the blood.

A pleasant, safe bran cereal is Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Millions of people have used it with satisfactory results over a period of ten years.

Two tablespoonfuls daily of this delicious ready-to-eat cereal are usually sufficient to prevent and relieve both temporary and recurring constipation. If you suffer from intestinal trouble not relieved this way, consult your doctor.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has a wonderful nut-sweet flavor. Enjoy with milk or cream, or use in cooking. Sold by grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

EATING RATHER THAN DRINKING GREATEST PROBLEM

In the midst of the great agitation concerning prohibition, it would be well for our readers to have certain facts in mind. The Constitution itself provides the means by which it shall be amended. The process is as follows: A resolution must be introduced into Congress, embodying the provisions of the amendment proposed. In this case it might be the repeal of the 18th Amendment.

This amendment, in order to take the first step toward repeal, must be passed by both the lower and upper houses of Congress with a two-thirds majority of their members,—that is, in the Senate, where there are 96 senators, it must have a vote of 64 senators. In the house, where there is a membership of 435, it must have a vote of 290. At the present time, instead of having a two-thirds majority, there is a majority of both houses against any such proposition.

Suppose, however, that the complexion of the House and Senate should be changed, and they should get the two-thirds majority. Then the proposed amendment is to be submitted to the legislatures of the several states, and it must be favorably acted upon by three-fourths of the states before it can be certified as a valid amendment to the Constitution.

What is the situation with the states? Prior to the adoption of the 18th amendment, the following states had enacted prohibition by their own vote, most of them by a popular vote:

Maine,	North Dakota,
New Hampshire,	South Dakota,
Virginia,	Nebraska,
West Virginia,	Kansas,
North Carolina,	Oklahoma,
South Carolina,	Texas,
Georgia,	Montana,
Florida,	Wyoming,
Alabama,	Colorado,
Mississippi,	New Mexico,
Tennessee,	Arizona,
Kentucky,	Utah,
Indiana,	Nevada,
Ohio,	Idaho,
Michigan,	Washington,
Arkansas,	Oregon.

These states did not have prohibition by national action, but they did it themselves, and one of their chief difficulties was the fact that they did not have the co-operation of the national government, and they had to fight the shipment of liquor into their domain from other states that were "wet."

What chance, under these conditions, has a change in the Constitution doing away with the 18th Amendment?

Isn't it time that we begin to address ourselves to the real question of getting something to eat, which is the momentous question in this country with millions, rather than something to drink?

The mode might be worse than the Empress Eugenie. Supposing, for example, there were a Queen Mary vogue?

DETROIT FACES DUTY

There has been criticism of Detroit's system of providing relief for those who are unemployed. One speaker recently, warning his own city against a similar course of action, said that it had attracted to Detroit indigents from all over the country, like bees to honey.

It is difficult to pass judgment on the situation in Detroit at this distance. The people of that city, however, the other day renominated Mayor Frank Murphy, the man responsible for the unemployment relief plans being carried out in Detroit. The Mayor ran some seventy thousand votes ahead of his closest competitor.

Detroit has had a heavy load to carry in the depression. Thousands who were attracted to that city by well-paying jobs in a relatively new industry which grew prodigiously during prosperous times were among the first to feel the depression as the automobile business slumped. The city which had grown up around the automobile manufacturing industry found itself with thousands of unemployed in its midst for whom it had some considerable ethical and social responsibility. Nor did the responsibility end there. It was safety insurance to take care of those enticed to the city by the advertising of jobs and prosperity during the period when the city was proud of its growth. Detroit faced up to its duty and did something, possibly not the best that could have been done, but at least it has made an effort to keep self-respecting. And a majority of the people there do not regret what has been done.

WHAT HAPPENED TO TONY

An article under the above title appeared in a recent number of the New Republic. Tony was a real character who came to the attention of the Wickersham Commission. He was the victim of the police's third degree methods, and committed suicide the day before he was to face a jury for the alleged murder of his wife. It was one of the cases that furnished the basis for the Wickersham report on the lawlessness of the law.

It was a very shocking case as described by the New Republic writer, and the police of the city of Cleveland recognized their police force and their city in thinly disguised allusions in the article. Now the chief of police is very much disturbed by the reputation which has been fixed upon his department, and he wants a committee to be appointed by Newton D. Baker, Cleveland's illustrious citizen, to investigate the whole matter.

We hope it will be done, for the charges made in that report against police brutality and court miscarriages of justice are so rank that the Commission itself branded the whole matter as Middle Age barbarity. The influence of the report has touched other cities as well as Cleveland. The cities of California are not exempt from some of the charges.

There is nothing more subversive of governmental stability than injustice and brutality inflicted upon the poor and the friendless. We pride ourselves on the reputation that here all men are equal before the law. But here are charges that give the lie to that principle. The sooner the public mind is disabused of the belief that there is discrimination in the application of the law, the better it will be for the stability of American society. So, we shall watch the progress and the results of this investigation in Cleveland with the greatest interest.

History Out of Clay

Christian Science Monitor

Few sculptors ranked with Daniel Chester French in the practicability of their art. Perhaps the rugged New England stock from which he came gave him the grounding in American traditions which in later years was to become the basis of idealistic conceptions that won great renown at home and abroad. His father was Assistant Secretary of Treasury. His grandfather was Chief Justice of New Hampshire.

The historical significance of Concord, which Emerson set forth in poetry, was as eloquently expressed in the sculptor's conception of "The Minute Man." Poetry of lasting sublimity marked the figure in bronze that French designed for Concord Bridge while he was yet growing up in that town.

Such was the practicability of his work that President Roosevelt sent him to Balboa to aid in beautifying the Canal Zone city. He had the aptitude for patience and accuracy that made Emerson say of his own portrait in clay which French had wrought, "Yes, that is the face I shave every morning." His work bore a feeling that put the power of the words spoken at Gettysburg into the expression of the standing Lincoln in the State Capitol of Nebraska, and the glow of compassion into the face of the Emancipator in the seated conception at the Lincoln Memorial in Washington.

These were but a few of the accomplishments of the sculptor who began his art by fashioning a bull-frog from a turnip before going on to a career that made him a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor of France, a member of merit in the Royal Academy of Saint Luke in Rome—a great artist and a sterling character in the estimation of people everywhere.

Deflated 'Dates' for College Girls

San Bernardino Sun

Co-eds at the University of Missouri thought things over, talked them over, and then announced that they were going to restrict themselves to a 5-cent soda fountain bill when having dates with college men. That may be a misprint; 5-cent soda and sundaes aren't very common. But the principle remains the same. The young women realize that the standard of spending must be deflated a little, and volunteer to take their cuts cheerfully.

Their example naturally precipitated concentration on the problem in other universities. At Ohio State, where perhaps soda fountain prices are higher than in Missouri, the co-eds agreed to limit themselves to 15 cents' worth of eats and drinks when out with boy friends.

At Northwestern in Illinois the young women have a different slant on the situation. They, too, are willing to co-operate, but it is their best judgment that the "boys wouldn't like such an economy rule." They're afraid masculine pride would be hurt.

If these economies are taken up seriously outside college walls, we may find old-fashioned fudge-making in the home kitchen coming into favor again, along with pop corn and the munching of rosy apples.

Would this be lowering the standard of living? There are people who would regard it as restoring a better standard than has prevailed recently.

What a Bouncing Baby!

San Francisco Chronicle

The only child that ever talked at birth, the talking movie, is five years old this last week—and what a baby! Already the youngster has the whole world in his arms. With a little help from the radio engineers he is likely to reach out and seize the moon any day.

Although Edison did have some talking movies out for a time in 1908, the real ones, the talkies we know now, saw the light of day in Hollywood five years ago. They had then been hovering around Hollywood for a couple of years, but their stork had been unable to land them. Movie people were at the moment dubious about talking on a feature which would mean so huge an expense as that involved in fitting all the theaters for sound.

The happy event was delayed until Warner Brothers wired a Hollywood theater and put on "The Lights of New York" on October 8, 1926. Almost immediately thereafter theaters were wired in Seattle, Portland and San Francisco. These four were the first in the world to be equipped for sound. How the baby has grown! Six months ago a census of all the theaters in the United States and Canada found only seventeen per cent of them without sound equipment. There must be far fewer now. The South American cities have become rabid talkie fans. The world around the talkie has swept the field. Just imagine, Calro has eight talkie theaters! The silence of the Sphinx is no longer noticed.

NAVAL DAY PARADE

You cannot see the tiny folks
Who float along the stream
When brown and crimson are the oaks
And gold the maples gleam.
But in each little tossing bark
That ships beside the shores,
From sunrise till the velvet dark,
A Pixie piles the oars.

You watch them veering here and there—
A tiny dancing throng—
And think that gentle puffs of air
Are moving them along.
But though the light winds live or die
Upon the bend or bay,
The little shallops still go by
On their unhurried way.

And as more leaves of red or brown
Are scattered far and wide
Come still more folk from Pixie Town
To launch them on the tide.
Till by and by the shining bay,
Where brook and river meet
Beneath the bluff, is bright and gay
With all the Pixie fleet.

When calm October's woods are stirred
By winds one hardly hears,
And not a note of homing bird
Falls on the listener's ears,
If by some brooklet, clear and cold
You'll stand an hour or two You'll see the Pixie navy hold
Its annual review.

Uncommon Sense

BY JOHN BLAKE

DO YOU KNOW WHERE YOU WANT TO GO?

Ten or fifteen years ago there was a popular song which expressed the average man's attitude toward life in a single line: "I don't know where I'm going, but I'm on my way."

Most people do not know where they are going, and do not make any effort to know.

They are "on their way" because they cannot help themselves. Life is motion. They must keep going ahead, or they will go back.

But most of the young men I meet are hunting widely for something, which they call "a start," feeling that when they get that, they will be all right.

Now one can always get a start, but too often it will be in the easiest direction, or along the line of the least resistance.

A good many boys—a couple of years ago—wanted to be bond salesmen.

That was a "white collar job." It didn't appear to require much training, merely a knowledge of the names of bond issues and their prices.

So they went out and tried to sell bonds, and for a while, during flush times, some of them succeeded, and believed they were on an easy road to fortune.

But of real knowledge of the industries which were kept in operation by money from the bonds they sold they had none.

Nor did they have the magnetic qualities which make a good salesman; they sold and the conditions that made them valuable.

So, when a pinch struck the business world, these lads were glad to pick up anything that would earn them their bread and butter.

In many cases this will be a good thing for them, for the next thing they tackle may require more study than bond selling is supposed to require.

It is highly important for anybody, at any time, to be convinced that he is going somewhere and to know the location of that somewhere.

It is true that many men who are successful have tried many things at the start.

But most of them knew what they wanted to do, and were no more satisfied with their early occupations than a motorist is satisfied with a rutty road, when he knows there are smooth ones to be found.

Keep your eye not on today's income, but on tomorrow's occupation.

Get the best training you can—in college if possible—though that is not absolutely necessary.

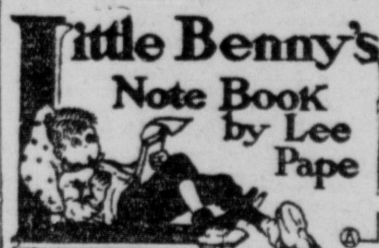

Then pick out a destination and keep going till you reach it, over rough roads or good, in pleasant or unpleasant circumstances.

As foolish would a ship captain be to set forth on a voyage without compass and chart and a definite port of destination as is the average beginner in life who believes that anything will do for a start.

With the wider spread of education and training, success is growing harder and harder to come by.

And the boys who are on the wrong roads are likely, after five or ten years, to find that though they have done a lot of traveling, they have never reached anything but dead ends.

Pop got another letter from Ma today, her still being away at Ant Fanny's on a visit, saying in it, "Dearest Willyum, Well, I'm still here, but nothing lasts forever, in fact some things don't last even as long as you expected them to, and I have a firm presentiment that this visit fits into that classification like a hand in a glove."

Little Herbit is the fly that is spoiling the taste of the ointment. According to Fanny he is a model of a paragon and everything he does only makes him seem the more so through her rose colored eyes, but I will give you a specimen of an example of what an average day here is like and you can judge from your own conclusions.

Well, this morning for instance I was awakened at the gasly hour of half past 5 by a dream that a giant blacksmith was using my defenseless body as an anvil to ply his trade on, and on low and behold the little Herbit was under my bed with an axual real life hammer battering away in a perfect frenzy at the slats and springs. The ensuing scuffle bawled Fanny to the scene and she immediately took Herbit's side, explaining that he has a natural inborn genius for engineering and was sent it wonderful for him to be up giving free vent to his grate gift at a time when common ungifted children would still be immersed in a stupor of sleep?

And so it went on, history repeating itself to the verge of monotony. When I complained to Fanny about finding my shoelaces tied into an insoluble maze of knots, she said it was just another problem that Herbit had set himself to keep his idle hands out of mischief, and when I discovered several loose bills in my handbag cut up into ribbons, Fanny exclaimed in a gush of rapture how wonderful it was for a child to start life without an exaggerated notion of the value of meer money.

So perhaps you can expect me sooner than you expected Willyum. Lovingly Paulwen.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

Most plans for unemployment relief center upon the problem of the 'jobless man or woman with dependents.'

But there is a vast army of men and women between the ages of 18 and 25, without dependents, who will find themselves in the ranks of the jobless this winter.

It is probably out of the question to make work for all of the unemployed—maybe not impossible but hardly likely—and it is no easy problem to devise ways and means of bringing relief to masses of men and women without robbing them of their self-respect or running the nation into the dangers of the dole.

Nationally or by states it might be feasible to mobilize the unmarried in great camps, as we mobilized our soldiers in war time, garb them in a specially designed civil uniform, give them a simple but wholesome diet, organize their common life under as much military discipline as might be necessary for their orderly administration, and create for them a vital adult education program.

A moderate stipend, maybe $15 a month, might be paid to all who enlist.

The winter months might be spent in education, with the summer months spent on public work not of the normal sort on which we might still need to absorb next summer men without employment who were not in those educational cantonments.

There is a vast amount of work on our forests and cut-over land, work that would mean a good public investment, that could be done by the men from these camps in the summer.

The educational problem would, of course, be difficult with the wide range of capacities and varying levels of preliminary training that would be represented.

Great forethought should be brought to the question of the later mobilization of this civil army.

But nothing is impossible! And it is this younger crowd of unemployed from which much sinister crime and discontent may spring unless statesmanlike measures are brought to their care.

ATTACK ON DESTROYER

On Oct. 16, 1917, the U. S. S. Cassin, American destroyer, had a narrow escape after being attacked in the war zone by a German submarine.

While the Cassin was on patrol duty, the submarine was sighted about five miles away. It was on the surface. The Cassin, under command of Commander Walter H. Vernon, proceeded at full speed toward the submarine.

She searched the vicinity for 30 minutes, when Commander Vernon sighted a torpedo running at high speed near the surface about 400 yards away, headed to strike the Cassin amidship.

He rang for emergency full speed ahead on both engines, put the rudder hard over, and was just clear of the torpedo's course when it broached on the surface, turned sharply toward the vessel, and struck the stern of the Cassin.

One of the Cassin's engines was disabled, but she was able to continue under way, circling in search of the submarine. An hour later she discovered the submarine's conning tower and fired four shots, but the submarine had disappeared.
